Knowland Sees Surplus For Tax Cuts

Says Reduction In Federal Spending Necessary This Year

MIAMI, Fla., April 26 (P)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said tonight if Congress can keep federal spending down close to the $68 billion of 1956, it can create a five billion dollar surplus for tax cuts and debt payment.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said continuance of the present high level of individual and business taxes "will ultimately destroy our free enterprise system."

In a speech prepared for the Assn. of American Physicians and Surgeons, Knowland called for a minimum reduction of three billion dollars in President Eisenhower's $71,000,000,000 spending budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Would Lessen Expenditures

This reduction would bring expenditures down close to the $68,900,000,000 level estimated for the current fiscal year.

Eisenhower's budget for the coming year contemplates a surplus of $1,800,000,000. This is on the expectation that revenues will reach $73,600,000,000. The three-billion dollar budget cut urged by Knowland would raise the expected surplus to the neighborhood of five billion dollars.

Eisenhower has said actual spending contemplated in his budget cannot be cut materially. He has specifically rejected proposals for a two billion dollar reduction.

Knowland said few people realize that "all we need to do at the present time in order to be able to reduce our towering national debt and cut taxes is to stop increasing federal expenditures."

"In order to have a budget surplus of almost five billion dollars in the forthcoming fiscal year, all we need to do is to keep federal expenditures from rising above their already high current level," he said. "This reduction of three billion dollars can and must be achieved as a minimum. I pledge my efforts to this end."

Possible Candidate

Knowland, a possible candidate for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, took issue with some "Modern Republicanism" advocates who have defended the President's increased spending proposals on the ground that the economy is growing.

Knowland called this "a dangerous and unnecessary philosophy."

"We live in a perilous age. Unless we are able to reduce federal expenditures and taxes, we will have no margin available for emergencies," he said.

"I do not deny that as the country grows, some increase in government expenditures is necessary and even desirable. However, of one thing I am certain. During a time of peace it is not necessary for federal expenditures to increase as fast or faster than the increase in the national income or as fast as an overburdened tax system can produce increased revenues."

AP Correspondent Jailed, Won't Tell News Source

BERN, Switzerland, April 26 (P)—Michael Goldsmith, correspondent in Geneva for The Associated Press, went to jail tonight for a 24-hour period after he declined to disclose the source of information he had obtained in a spy case.

Hans Walder, federal examining magistrate, imposed the sentence summarily, holding Goldsmith in contempt of court.

This is the background: In a news story March 20 Goldsmith reported that a Swiss police official was under investigation on suspicion of passing to French agents certain information obtained by recording telephone conversations involving the Egyptian Embassy. The story said Egyptian officials became suspicious last November. This was around the time of the French-British invasion of Egypt.

On March 23 Atty. Gen. Rene Dubois shot himself to death in his home. He had become involved in the espionage case.

Magistrate Walder is in charge of the government inquiry into Dubois's suicide. He summoned Goldsmith to question him as to where he got information reported in the March 20 news story.

Goldsmith refused to divulge this, saying:

"It is not any lack of good will which leads me to refuse to testify, nor do I wish to favor or protect anyone who might be involved in this investigation. I am concerned with the basic question of press freedom, which can only exist when a journalist has the right to conceal his sources of information."

Walder announced there was no appeal against the 24-hour sentence, and officials said the reporter may be subject to further prosecution if he maintains his refusal to give the information sought.

Court Asked To Deny Move In Clinton Case

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 26 (P)—The government asked a U.S. District Court today to deny dismissal motions filed in behalf of 17 persons accused of criminal contempt of court in the Clinton High School integration cases.

The 17 including segregationist John Kasper of Washington, D.C. are accused of criminal contempt of federal court for alleged violation of a permanent injunction prohibiting interference with peaceful integration of the school.

Defense counsel asked that the charges be dismissed on grounds, among other things, that the injunction violated the defendants' rights under the First Amendment.

But U.S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. maintained in his petition asking Judge Robert L. Taylor to deny the dismissal motions that the injunction does not violate the First Amendment. He added that the amendment, which guarantees the right of assembly, "does not confer the right to persuade others to violate the law."

Taylor issued the court order last September to halt disorders at Clinton High which he had ordered to admit 12 Negro students.

Kasper was sentenced in September by Taylor to a year in prison for violating the injunction. He appealed and the case is under advisement by the U.S. Court of Appeals, 6th Circuit, at Cincinnati.

7 Miners Killed

MULHOUSE, France, April 26 (P)—Seven miners were killed and six injured today in an explosion at the Marie Louise potash mine at nearby Staffeiden.

One hundred and eighty-one miners came out safely. The victims all were French.

Ike Seeks Modern And Strong GOP

Urges Effective Work To Insure Elections In 1958

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 26 (P)—President Eisenhower, in a telephone talk to a party workers' regional conference here, called today for "a stronger, completely up-to-date Republican party."

Urging a "more effective party" for the "all-important task of electing a Republican House and Senate in 1958," he repeated what he told an earlier regional conference at Omaha:

Never-Ending Task

"Our never-ending task is to make the Republican party responsive to the modern-day needs and aspirations of all the people." The President spoke from Augusta, Ga., where he is vacationing.

Eisenhower conceded that there are "differences of opinion within our party and I hope there always will be." Divergent points of view, he said, spell "a healthy condition as long as the fundamental beliefs within that party provide a common nucleus of thought, a common ground."

"We have that in the Republican party—a set of unalterable truths that bind us together into an inseparable whole . . ."

Job Not Finished

He told the GOP workers from the six New England states their job will not be finished unless they carry the lessons learned "down to the district or local level, which is where our great strength lies . . . and encourage every citizen to take an active interest in politics."

GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn told the conference the party must start looking now for its 1958 candidates. "It's no longer enough to select a nice guy," he said.

With five U. S. Senate seats at stake next year in New England, he said he would not concede a single one, including those held by such vote-getters as Sens. Pastore (D-R.I.) and Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Marines Sail To Mid East

NORFOLK, Va., April 26 (P)—Five Atlantic Fleet amphibious force ships carrying a battalion of Marines will sail Monday for the Mediterranean. A naval spokesman said the deployment is a routine move to relieve ships now in the Mediterranean.

Two attack transports, an attack cargo ship, a high-speed transport and a dock landing ship will leave here and pick up the 1st Battalion, 2nd Marines at Morehead City, N.C.

A tank landing ship, Windham County, will sail for the Mediterranean Wednesday and the command ship Taconi will sail about May 20, the spokesman said.

Under a similar situation during the Suez Canal crisis last fall, the Navy kept the Marines in the Mediterranean when its relieving force got there, thus relieving two Marine battalions in the area. There was no indication, however, that this is being planned at this time.

Ships leaving Monday include the attack transports Monrovia and Rockbridge, the attack cargo ship Carpellotti and the dock landing ship Shadwell.

The tank landing ship Windham County will relieve the Traverse County.

Loyola Students Plan Dance For Mom And Dad

CHICAGO, April 26 (P)—Students of Loyola Academy are doing a switch: they're throwing a spring dance for Mom and Dad with teen-agers as chaperones.

For 15 years the boys at the academy on Chicago's North Side have put in weeks of hard work each spring transforming their gym into a Dutch garden for the annual Tulip Trot. Few parents have ever seen their handiwork. Many expressed the wish they could.

On May 10 the kids again will have their annual Tulip Trot. But the next night, the eve of Mother's Day, their parents will take over the gym for the first annual Mr. and Mrs. Tulip Trot.

Members of the Torch Club, student activities group that sponsors the dance, and their dates will serve as chaperones to keep the Charleston and varsity drag within reasonable bounds.

U.S. Accepts New Suez Plan

Six Other UN Members Still Not Satisfied

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 26 (P)—The United States today accepted Egypt's new Suez Canal plan on a trial basis but six other members of the U. N. Security Council said an international agreement is needed.

The six are Australia, Britain, Colombia, Cuba, France and Sweden.

Nationalist China and the Philippines, like the United States, expressed belief that Egypt's plan might prove satisfactory in practice. Iraq and the Soviet Union said it was all right as it stood.

After a full day of debate Council President Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain summed up "the general feeling that the Egyptian declaration had referred to further negotiations, possibly under U. N. auspices, but no formal proposal was made."

Will Resume Debate

Dixon said the Council would resume debate at a time to be announced later. He said a few days would be needed for further study of the Egyptian memorandum and for consultation on it with central user governments not represented on the Council.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge told the Council Egypt's 1,000-word declaration on running the waterway, registered with the U. N. Wednesday, lacked necessary provisions for "organized cooperation" with the users to safeguard their interests.

But he said it should be "given a trial" and "practical arrangements" should be worked out under it while the 11-nation Council kept the question under review. He announced that U.S. vessels would be authorized to pay tolls to Egypt only under protest until a settlement had been reached with the old Suez Canal Co., from which Egypt took the route last July 26. U.S. shippers have done this since that date to avoid being caught owing both Egypt and the company.

Philippines Agree

The Philippines agreed on a trial for the Egyptian scheme. Colombia, Cuba and France said the unilateral declaration should be replaced by an international agreement.

French Delegate Guillaume Geoges-Picot said that Egypt had reserved its right to bar Israeli shipping from the vital 103-mile link between the Red and Mediterranean seas.

Omar Loutfi of Egypt declared his country favored freedom of navigation through the canal but did not make clear whether this included Israel, long excluded.

Lodge said that the interests of Egypt and the users required "the assumption that there will in fact be, as there should be, free and nondiscriminatory use of the canal at all times by the ships of all nations."

Israeli circles told reporters the United States this morning had brought this "assumption" to the attention of Israel's U.S. embassy and U.N. delegation. They said, "In these circumstances, Israel's obvious course is to exercise its rights under that assumption in due time and course."

Afford Free Navigation

The declaration says Egypt will afford free navigation of the canal "within the limits of and in accordance with the provisions of" the 1883 Constantinople Convention for that purpose.

It says Egypt will run the canal, collect the tolls, set aside five per cent for government royalties and 25 per cent for improvements and submit to arbitration tribunals or the International Court in case of dispute.

Lodge told the Council it "does not fully meet the six requirements" for a settlement of the canal question that that body laid down in a resolution adopted last Oct. 13.

These requirements were free transit without discrimination, respect for Egypt's sovereignty, insulation of any country, "agreement between Egypt and the users on how to fix tolls, allotment of considerable tolls for improvements and arbitration of disputes between Egypt and the old company."

Probes Show Need For Fund Regulation

NEW YORK, April 26 (P)—Senate racket probes have shown a need for federal regulation of welfare funds administered by management as well as those administered by labor, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today.

He made the statement as the Senate Racketeering Investigating Committee heads quizzed a parade of labor officials and their union foes in a closed-door session.

Albam Pleads Guilty To Spy Ring Charges

NEW YORK, April 26 (P)—Jacob Albam, refugee alien member of a spy ring that sought American defense secrets for Russia, pleaded guilty today—as had the husband-wife espionage team with whom he worked.

Albam, 64, had been left out on a limb last April 10 by the guilty pleas of Jack Soble 53, and his wife, Myra, 52. The two since have been cooperating with the government and presumably were available as prosecution witnesses against Albam had he chosen to stand trial.

The Lithuanian-born Albam's plea, like those of the Sobles, was a bid for mercy. Had they been convicted under the original conspiracy indictments, they could have been sentenced to death.

Instead, all three now face at most 10 years in prison and $10,000 fines on their guilty pleas. They will be sentenced next Friday by U.S. Judge Richard H. Levett.

Albam's attorney, Harold O. N. Frankel, told Judge Levett:

"I have discussed the matter at length with him and advised him as to his rights. He admits he was in the conspiracy but, however, he has committed no substantive act against the U.S. government."

Outside of court, Frankel added: "Albam, in my opinion, is an elderly, scholarly gentleman who was really a very minor, minor figure in this conspiracy. Unfortunately, he became enmeshed in a situation through no fault of his own and committed no act against this government."

He admitted to me that he wanted to extricate himself from this involvement but circumstances beyond his control prevented any chance."

The story of the spy ring's intrigue was described previously by the Sobles' lawyer as "an amazing tale which borders on the fantastic."

The FBI said Soble took over control of the ring once headed by Vassili M. Zubilin, former third secretary of the Russian Embassy in Washington. Zubilin returned to Russia in 1944 after the FBI branded him a spy.

Adams To Face 16 More Charges

LONDON, April 26 (P)—Dr. John Bodkin Adams, who was acquitted of murder on April 9, will be brought into court May 20 to face 16 lesser charges, his lawyers disclosed today.

The 58-year-old physician, who was found innocent of drugging 81-year-old Mrs. Edith Morrell to death for profit, must still face charges under the cremation, dangerous drug and forgery laws. The prosecution has charged he made false statements in signing an application for cremation of Mrs. Morrell's remains in 1950.

Wright Is Selected

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 26 (P)—Fisk University announced today the selection of Dr. Stephen J. Wright, of Bluefield, W. Va. as president of the 90-year-old Negro institution.

Twisters, Thunderstorms Hit Mid-Section Of U.S.

(By The Associated Press)
Twisters and thunderstorms snapped at broad sections of the nation's Midwest yesterday and cloudbursts flooded many sections of Texas.

Locally severe thunderstorms broke out in a cold front extending from western Texas to central Illinois.

Three deaths in Texas were attributed to floods. Five persons were injured when a tornado hit Tyler, in eastern Texas. The twister ripped into two elementary schools and destroyed or damaged 25 homes.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said a pilot reported sighting a bouncing tornado funnel in the vicinity of Culver, Ind. The twister pecked at the ground several times before receding.

Hailstones the size of baseballs pelted Sweetwater, Tex., while Dallas had 3.38 inches of rain most of it falling in three hours.

West of the advancing cold front, afternoon temperatures were in the 50s and 60s. To the east, afternoon readings in the 80-degree range reached into Michigan and Virginia.

Cool air also enveloped the Northeast. Readings along the New England coast where there was occasional rain or drizzle ranged in the 40s and 50s. The mercury climbed into the 60s and 70s in the interior.

Mixed snow and rain showers with 30-degree temperatures occurred at higher elevations from northern Utah and Wyoming into Montana, but elsewhere west of the Continental Divide fair weather was the rule.

Hatchet Slayer Given 99 Years

CHICAGO, April 26 (P)—A young father of two children was sentenced to 99 years in prison today for the hatchet slaying of an 18-year-old girl who resisted his advances.

Arthur D. Bauer, 21, a part-time carpenter's apprentice, pleaded guilty to a charge of murdering Rosemary McCarthy last Sept. 5.

The girl's battered body, her clothes bloodied and torn to shreds was found in a parking lot.

Bauer admitted burying her there after inducing her to accept a ride in an automobile. He then tried to make love to her and when she resisted struck her repeatedly with a hatchet.

Salesman Admits Theft Of Clothing

CHICAGO, April 26 (P)—Police said a clothing salesman in a downtown department store today admitted stealing some $50,000 in men's clothing in seven months at the rate of about 16 suits a week.

Held for questioning was Hurschalle P. Lenne, 51, a salesman with Mandel Bros. department store for two years.

Police said after Lenne was seized at the store last night they found $1,700 in stolen garments at his home.

14 States Turn Up Clocks For Daylight Time Sunday

NEW YORK, April 26 (P)—Millions of Americans in 14 states and the District of Columbia will turn their clocks an hour ahead after midnight Saturday. Daylight time begins for them at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Ten other states will switch to "fast time" on a partial basis.

Twenty-four states will stay on standard time, although in one of them, North Dakota, the decision is subject to change.

The hour of sleep lost in the switch will be regained in the fall when daylight time ends.

The daylight savings time area is mainly in the Northeast, the Far West and the Great Lakes. The South, the Midwest and the Northwest generally stick to standard time.

Among the big cities going on daylight savings are Boston, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Chicago, Louisville, Charleston, W. Va., and Cleveland.

Of the nation's most populous states, only Texas and Michigan will retain standard time on a statewide basis.

King's Arab Legion Opens Red Roundup

Toukan Is Named Military Governor In Commie Drive

AMMAN, Jordan, April 26 (P)—King Hussein placed Jordan under a military governor today and launched a determined war against the Communists in his kingdom.

The Arab Legion, the King's loyal and predominantly Bedouin army, began a roundup of Communists, left-wing leaders and extreme nationalists, in an attempt to snuff out the Red influence which has helped keep this nation in seething ferment.

Hussein's new premier, 69-year-old Ibrahim Hashem, called in the ambassadors of neighboring Arab states and informed them of the developments which have been rocking Jordan for nearly three weeks.

Gains Victory

The 21-year-old King, winner of at least a temporary victory in the second round of a struggle for his throne, left little doubt in any of the Arab leaders' minds that he considers his primary job at this time to be the crushing of any further attempts at Communist penetration.

As military governor for the whole country, the King named his new defense minister, Suleiman Toukan, who will wield enormous power.

This step followed a declaration of martial law yesterday and imposition of virtually total curfew upon Jordan's main cities—Amman, the capital; the Old City of Jerusalem, Nabulus, Ramallah and Irbid in Palestinian Jordan, the latter near the Syrian frontier. The cities looked like ghost towns except for two hours of daily recess permitting citizens to lay in their supplies.

The young King, himself a novice at politics, won the first round of his fight for the throne when he got rid of the military and political leaders in his country who apparently were working at cross purposes with him. He won the second round yesterday when he imposed the military law and made it stick.

Under House Arrest

(In Syria, unconfirmed Damascus reports said nationalist former Premier Suleiman Nabulsi, whom Hussein sacked two weeks ago, was under house arrest, and more than 60 members of the "free officers" group had been jailed. The "free officers," patterned themselves on the Egyptian Revolutionary Council, opposed Hussein. Because of Syria's direct interest in Jordanian events such reports had to be received with reservations.)

Although many of Jordan's Communist and leftist leaders are reported under arrest it is too soon to judge whether the King has successfully stemmed the tide of Red penetration. There was evidence, however, that attempts by leftists to infiltrate the army—as they had the political parties now banned—had failed.

The King made it plain it is not his intent to stamp out pan-Arab nationalism, which insists upon "justice" in Palestine. The campaign against communism took top priority for the moment.

But Jordan still faces other dangers.

Injunction Halts Railroad Strike

PHILADELPHIA, April 26 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad today obtained a federal court order temporarily halting a strike of 25,000 maintenance and other nonoperating employees at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday.

The halt-strike order was issued by U. S. Dist. Judge John W. Lord Jr. who set next Friday for a further hearing on the matter.

Humphrey Does Not Admit To Retirement Plan

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey today again declined to be drawn out on his retirement plans, although it's an open secret here that he plans to return to private industry soon.

"When the time comes for my resignation," he said in a statement, "it will be presented to President Eisenhower."

The secretary's aides admit "the time" is coming, and may not be far off. No one close to him expects Humphrey to remain in the Cabinet until the end of President Eisenhower's term.

His statement today was in reply to published reports that he would be named board chairman of National Steel next month.

Another published report—that Robert B. Anderson, former deputy secretary of defense, has been chosen to succeed Humphrey—drew comment from James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary.

"I repeat what I said Sunday night—I know of no present plans for Mr. Humphrey to leave the government," Hagerty told newsmen at the President's vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga.

Anderson, an Eisenhower Democrat and a native of Texas, now heads Ventures Ltd., a Canadian mining firm. At the firm's New York office it was said Anderson will not be available for comment until May 3.

Humphrey's statement today also said, "it is well known that I have been in the Cabinet much longer than I originally planned. But as long as I am secretary of the Treasury, I will have no other interest."

Humphrey told reporters as recently as last Monday he had no present plans to resign. He is 67.

Yesterday's Pittsburgh Post-Gazette quoted reports in industrial circles that Humphrey would succeed Ernest Weir as board chairman of National Steel, the nation's fifth biggest steel company. Weir, 81, is stepping down May 16 because of ill health.

When Humphrey joined Eisenhower's Cabinet in 1953 it was with the stated intention of serving for not more than two years.

Group Seeks Juvenile Plan

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Chairman Hennings (D-Mo) said today his Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee hopes to produce "a blueprint" for community action to control and prevent teenage crime.

The group is now making a study toward that goal. Hennings said in a statement commenting on an FBI report, issued yesterday, which showed a further increase in crime by persons under 18 years of age.

Hennings said that while juvenile delinquency is a national problem, he believes that "wherever practicable, it should be dealt with on the local level—in the communities where the young people live."

"We are investigating many programs, both experimental and those already in operation, concentrating on the New York area at the present time," he said.

"We began with New York because of the many fine agencies working on this problem there. The study will be continued and the special problems of smaller communities and programs tailored to their special needs will also be considered."

Hanna Retrial Set October 14

FAIRMONT, W. Va., April 26 (AP)—Retrial of Homer W. Hanna of Charleston on charges of evading more than $31,000 in personal income taxes for the years 1949 through 1953 has been set for next Oct. 14.

A 14-day trial of Hanna on the charges ended in a jury disagreement here last Oct. 31 in U. S. District Court for Northern West Virginia.

The 60-year-old Hanna is clerk of the U. S. District Court for Southern West Virginia and is the head of a Charleston insurance firm. He also has long been an important behind-the-scenes figure in Democratic politics in the state.

The date for the second trial was set by Judge Sterling Hutcheson of Richmond, Va., who presided at the trial last year when Hanna had disqualified himself from hearing the case.

Get Army Bid

BALTIMORE, April 26 (AP)—Arthur F. Chambers & Sons of Hagerstown submitted an apparently low bid of $157,698 today for construction of an Army Reserve Training Center in the Western Maryland city.

The strike was called by the Transport Workers Union. Its international president, Michael Quill, said in a statement from New York that the membership in 52 locals had voted "overwhelmingly" to strike America's largest railroad.

The union said the dispute with the PRR was over work assignments.

The union, in calling the strike, said it expected the vast PRR rail system from St. Louis to New York to grind to a halt.

In its injunction petition the railroad said a strike would cause it to lose $750,000 daily and pointed out that it may never recover any freight or passenger traffic lost during a work stoppage.

Judge Lord's order forbids picketing, interfering with Pennsylvania Railroad traffic, and directs the union and 19 of its officers "to take steps to prevent a threatened strike or work stoppage."

James W. Oram, the railroad's vice president in charge of personnel, said the union's strike order violated the law of the land—the federal Railway Labor Act—which had been upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court.

"The purpose of the Pennsylvania Railroad in petitioning for the court restraining order was to have this recalcitrant union abide by the law rather than engage in irresponsible strike threats whenever they feel that their labor agreements have been violated," Oram said in a statement.

Specifically, Quill said the dispute with the PRR was over "violation by the road of its agreement with the TWU concerning car inspector work." He added:

"This work properly belongs to TWU jurisdiction."

In New York, Quill said in a statement:

"We are not surprised at the Pennsylvania Railroad's success in getting a quick injunction against their workers' strike. Railroads and big corporations are noticeably successful these days in getting quick restraining orders."

"But injunctions will not solve the current dispute between the Pennsylvania Railroad and its workers represented by the TWU."

Hitch Hikes To His Trial

MARTINSVILLE, Va., April 26 (AP)—Vincent Ray Bragg, who lives in Wayne, Mich., some 600 miles from here—hitch-hiked that distance to stand trial in Henry County court today on a charge of reckless driving.

Bragg, arrested by State Police April 5 on Route 220 north of here, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $50 and costs.

He told County Judge A. H. McBryde that he was unemployed and would have some difficulty in raising the money immediately. The court was so impressed with Bragg's conscientiousness that it gave him 10 days in which to raise the money, even authorizing him to leave the state and return home.

Bragg said he left Detroit yesterday and was successful in getting to Martinsville in just two rides. He left for Michigan today via the same route.

Sees No Signs Of Steel Recession

PITTSBURGH, April 26 (AP)—Tom Campbell, editor-in-chief of Iron Age, said tonight there is no sign of a serious recession or depression in the steel industry.

Campbell told members of the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Steel Warehouse Assn. that the industry's production rate expansion will continue and may run as much as four million tons a year for the next four years.

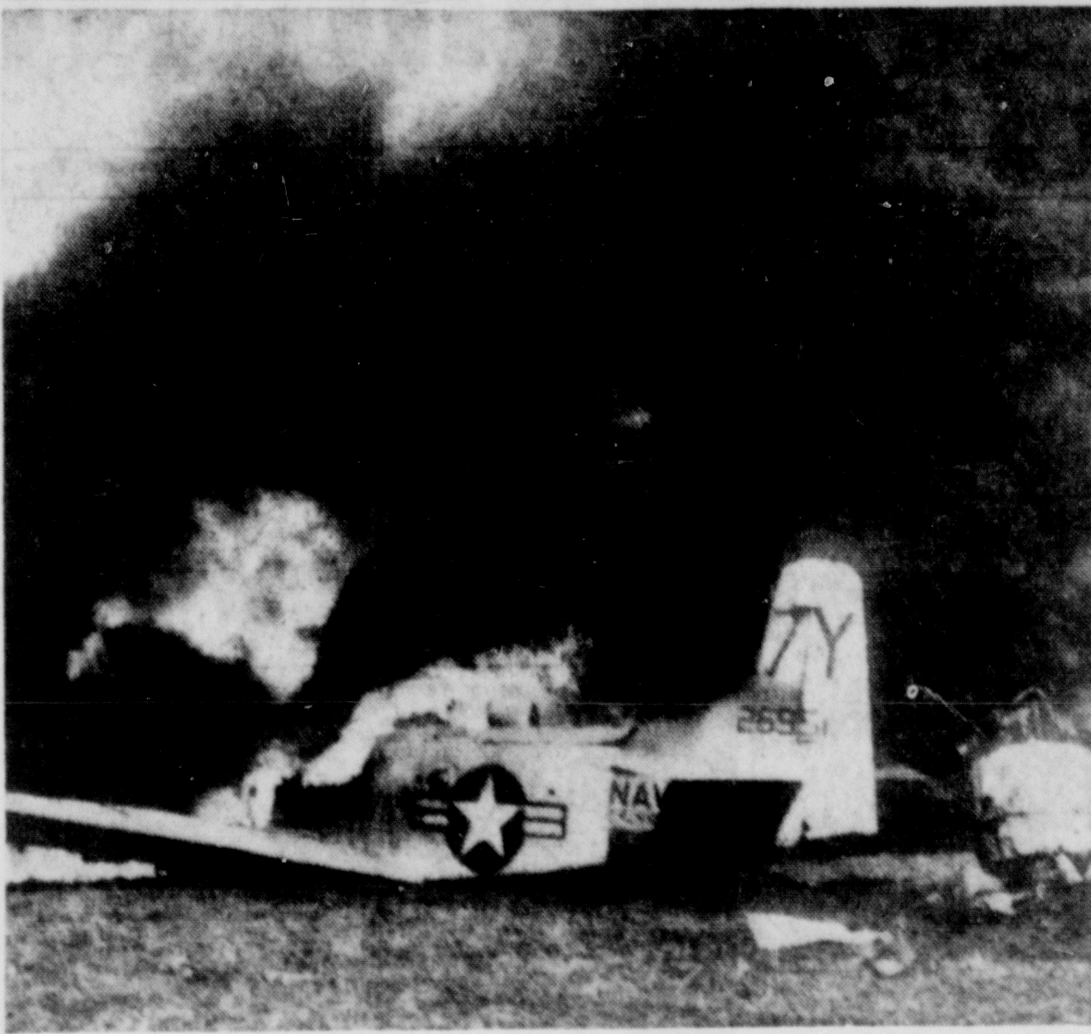

King's Arab

Syria, its regime strongly oriented toward Moscow, still has troops inside Jordan. Iraq, ruled by Hussein's Hashemite cousin, King Faisal, is reported to have sent a demand to Syria—and to Egypt, which Syria vigorously supports in the cause of pan-Arab nationalism—that the Syrians remove their 5,000 troops from northern Jordan.

The Syrian troops were sent there last fall ostensibly to protect Jordan from Israel, but the possibility they might be used to slice off a part of Jordan obviously would be a source of worry to Baghdad, which has ordered Iraqi troops up to the Jordan border.

Britain Closes Naval Era, Plans Small Nuclear Ships

LONDON, April 26 (AP)—Britain wrote the end today to a historic chapter in the story of the Royal Navy.

The government announced plans for a nuclear age navy with the emphasis on small, fast ships instead of the heavy battleships and cruisers which spearheaded Britain's fighting fleet in two world wars.

Bound for the scrap heap are four famed battleships—the King George V, the Duke of York, the Anson and the Howe. Traditional cruisers are to make way for fast fleet escort vessels carrying guided missiles.

Britain's future navy will consist of highly mobile task force groups built around modernized and re-equipped aircraft carriers. Their attacking power will center on the new 1,500-mile-an-hour Blackburn N39 bomber, which can carry an atomic bomb.

The naval reorganization was announced by the first lord of the admiralty, Lord Selkirk, in a memorandum on 1957-58 expenditure estimates.

"Today it is more than ever important that our armed forces should be quickly on the spot where there is trouble, to prevent a local fire from spreading," Selkirk said.

His memorandum was part of Britain's new five-year defense program aimed at cutting service manpower and boosting efficiency through the development of light-knit units armed with atomic and nuclear weapons.

Naval strength will be cut next year by 7,000 men to a total of 121,500. Naval chiefs have budgeted an expenditure of 316 million pounds—884 million dollars. This is a cut of 32 million pounds—89 million dollars—from this year's figure.

Reliable sources said the admiralty has ordered construction of four guided weapons-carrying destroyers and 21 frigates—most of them designed for anti-aircraft and antisubmarine duties.

Selkirk made clear that Britain has discarded the old conception of maintaining a widely dispersed conventional fleet. The new mobile units will be held at strategic points ready to speed to any of the world's trouble spots.

Ready To Evacuate

NORFOLK, Va., April 26 (AP)—William B. Franke, undersecretary of the Navy, said today one reason the 6th Fleet is going to the eastern Mediterranean is to be ready to evacuate Americans from the trouble-torn Jordan area if that should prove necessary.

The automatic steering gear for ships was first installed in 1922.

Salk Vaccine Supply Again Builds Up To 8,200,000 Doses

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—The Public Health Service said today supplies of Salk Polio vaccine have been building up again. They increased from about 4,700,000 doses available on April 5 to about 8,200,000 doses on April 19.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said 27,073,759 doses have been released since Jan. 1.

The Health Service also reported that only 32 new polio cases were reported over the nation last week, as compared with 79 in the comparable 1956 week.

During the first three weeks of the polio "disease year," which began April 1, there were 97 polio cases, compared with 228 in a similar span a year ago.

Briton Backs Bush's Story

BANGKOK, Thailand, April 26 (AP)—Mike Sullivan says he "went along for the ride" with American pilot Henry Bush on a flight into Red China to rescue a Chinese boy.

Sullivan, a British ex-prizefighter recently appointed sales representative for Thai Airways, supported Bush's story of the April 5 flight.

Bush, a pilot with the Venezuelan airline and now on a world trip, told the story of the flight this week. He said he was accompanied by a Briton, but refused to give the man's name on the ground that his Chinese wife might be endangered. Bush's parents live in Massapequa, N.Y.

Sullivan said he was sorry about the publicity given to the flight because it might endanger the lives of villagers where the boy was picked up, and also the family of the rich Chinese who asked them to go on the mission.

40,000 Students Seen

BALTIMORE, April 26 (AP)—The president of Western Maryland College says total college enrollment in the Free State may hit 40,000 students by 1970.

Reddick Again Has Injunction Put On Actions

BALTIMORE, April 26 (AP)—A running court battle that has gone on for a year between the attorney general's office and Dr. Robert H. Reddick continued today.

For the second time in less than a year, Atty. Gen. C. Ferdinand Sybert's office obtained an injunction against the doctor's activities in the name of the Maryland State Homeopathic Society.

The latest is designed to make illegal a meeting that the attorney general says Dr. Reddick has called for tomorrow and Sunday of the society.

The attorney general contends it is being called illegally by an invalid "rump" board of the Society formed April 8, 1956.

Today's injunction was issued by Circuit Judge Edwin Harlan.

Circuit Judge Joseph Byrnes last summer issued an injunction against Dr. Reddick's issuance of medical licenses in the board's name and the ruling was upheld by the Court of Appeals.

The attorney general has charged him with contempt of the 1956 injunction and trial is pending.

Dr. Reddick also was dismissed as a psychiatrist at the Eastern Shore State Hospital in Cambridge as a result of his actions.

The 1957 legislature as an aftermath to the cases repealed all authority for any homeopathic board to issue licenses.

The attorney general reported earlier this week that Dr. Reddick is circulating petitions which could force the repeal to be voted upon by the public at the 1958 election.

Sorority Competes For Plaque

A model meeting, pledge service and initiation were conducted by Iota Epsilon Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, Thursday evening, when Mrs. Betty Daddis, state inspector, visited the chapter. Mrs. Margaret Hartman conducted the business session and initiation; and Miss Juanita Prime, the pledge service. Mrs. Randy Streiby was pledged.

An invitation was received from the Keyser chapter for its spring tea May 5 at 2 p.m. A sextet, composed of Mrs. Betty Dean, Mrs. Diana Barnes, Miss Prime, Miss Leverage McClellan, Miss Charlotte Chaney and Miss Ina Jean Grim, was chosen to sing at the state convention at Parkersburg, W. Va., May 18-19.

Initiation was held for Mrs. Patricia Hunter, Mrs. Jean Carcello, Miss Chaney, Miss Joyce Bruner, Mrs. Lois Ashenfelter and Mrs. Streiby.

The meeting was held at the scout house, with Mrs. Jane Frederick and Mrs. Hazel Kemp cohostesses. Mrs. Alice Johnson and Mrs. Deloris Grabenstein were reported in the hospital. Mrs. Daddis was accompanied by Mrs. Louise Dempsey, Gratton; and Mrs. Loretta Keener, Keyser, district manager, by Mrs. Barbara Rotruck, Mrs. Elizabeth Arnold, Mrs. Frances Hartman and Mrs. Jean Hardman.

Club Marks Federation Membership

Mrs. William A. Douglas, state president, was guest speaker at the Oakland Civic Club's celebration of its 40th year's membership in the state federation, held at a luncheon at the William James Hotel. The club was organized in 1917 with Mrs. Thekla Funderberg Weeks as leader, and federated in 1916 when Mrs. E. Z. Tower was president. Other honorees were Mrs. E. Irving Baumgartner, First District president; Mrs. Tower and Mrs. R. E. Slinger, Frostburg, charter member and former president.

Mrs. Tower and Mrs. W. W. Grant spoke of past history, including town sanitation, Clean Up Week, the first health clinic, library and county fair sponsored by the members. Mrs. Kenneth Lawton, junior club president, presented a secretary book to the club. Mrs. Jay Bell, Crellin, sang with Mrs. Neil Fraley at the piano.

Mrs. O. T. Graser presided and the club voted to join the sponsorship for the Garrett County Play House for the coming season. A red and white souvenir booklet was given as favors and the same color scheme was repeated in the candles and floral decorations.

Mrs. Sarah Barley, 105 Karns Avenue, is a surgical patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Christian Congregation Honors Rev., Mrs. Johnson

The congregation of the First Christian Church entertained with a farewell party honoring Rev. Carl Johnson Jr., pastor, and his family Thursday evening at the church.

Rev. Johnson, who has been here for the past four years, has accepted a call to First Christian Church, Wellsburg, W. Va. He will conduct his final service here tomorrow. Although he will preach each Sunday in Wellsburg, Rev. Johnson will have his vacation through May and remain here so the children can complete the school year here. He also will attend the reception May 9, for new members enrolled during the recent campaign.

Rev. and Mrs. Johnson came here from First Christian Church, Elkhardt, Iowa. They have four children, Sheila, 12; Daniel, 9; Mark, 6; and Carl Ray, 2. A native of Monongahela, Pa., he attended Johnson Bible College, Kimberlin Heights, Tenn.; Western Theological Seminary, Pittsburgh, and Drake Divinity School, Des Moines. While here, Rev. Johnson has been a member of the Ministerial Association and Optimist Club; and for some time was chief supervisor of the Ground Observer Corps.

A native of Carnegie, Pa., Mrs. Johnson has been a nurse in pediatrics at Sacred Heart Hospital while here. During the summer the local church will have a guest minister.

A hymn sing and social hour, visiting together, featured the entertainment. A buffet-type lunch was served, with the table centered with a miniature flower garden, which later was presented to Mrs. Johnson.

On behalf of the congregation, Arthur Howard, a member of the official board, presented a set of lamps and a purse to the pastor. Approximately 100 members attended.

Members of the Progressive Class served refreshments. Mrs. Jean Howard, Mrs. Joann Tichnell, Mrs. Virginia Rowe and Mrs. Leona McClellan were hostesses.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Speech Is No Problem

Slouchy speech may be the over-use of slang words or phrases. It may be over-dependence upon vague adjectives like "wonderful" and "terrific" and "divine."

To converse in cliches is a manner of slouching. So is the wrong use of verbs.

Speech Habits
One becomes so accustomed to saying "was" or "were" with certain singular or collective nouns, for example, that the possibility of the verb's being incorrectly used seldom enters the mind.

Part of the charm of your speech, you know, is the correctness of your speech. So it behooves you to recognize the rights and wrongs of this little verb quiz. If you score ten, nice going! If you don't—watch that slouch!

1. Neither Betty nor Susan (have, has) heard from her.
2. Corned beef and cabbage (are, is) the specialty of this restaurant.
3. If I (was, were) you, I should try to attend that meeting.
4. There (is, are) several new fabrics being shown this season.
5. Only one of the dresses (has, have) a jacket.
6. The package must (of, have) arrived this morning.
7. She (don't, doesn't) seem to mind being late for the opening.
8. Available data on these subjects (is, are) varied.

9. I (will, shall) keep my promise.

10. (You (was, were) the last to leave.

An easy quiz? I hope you found it so. Now check yourself on the answers:

Quiz Key
1. has; 2. is; 3. were; 4. are; 5. has; 6. have; 7. doesn't; 8. are; 9. will; 10. were.

Word study can be interesting. And it is worth your time to bone up now and then on correct speech.

IN PLAY TONIGHT—Frank Smith, as "Old Buddy" and Judy Hartman as Betty MacDonald, will appear in the Flintstone Senior Class three-act comedy, "Onions in the Stew" tonight in the school auditorium.

B'er Chayim Sisterhood Presents Officer Slate

An illustrated talk and presentation of the slate of officers featured the monthly meeting of the B'er Chayim Temple Sisterhood, following a luncheon.

The Nominating committee presented the slate to take office in May. It consisted of Mrs. Milton Granet, president; Mrs. Albert Eskin, first vice president; Mrs. Maurice Milberg, second vice president; Mrs. Sidney Pariser, secretary; Mrs. Max Spear, financial secretary and Mrs. Samuel Schwab, treasurer.

Mrs. Rudolph Steinberger, secretary of the Garden Club, presented a talk on flower arrangements, with demonstrations showing appropriate use of flowers for various settings and occasions. She was introduced by Mrs. Irving Millenson. Mrs. Frank Kaplan was chairman of the Luncheon committee.

Donations were made to Sibley Hospital; Swartzell Home, East Baltimore parish and foreign missions. It was decided that the collection taken during the study of "Paul's Letter" will be used for postage to send cake mix to Catherine Eye, missionary in Africa.

Mrs. Herbert Cessna presided and Mrs. Elizabeth Moody offered prayer. Routine reports were given, and a report was given on the sale of stationery. Thirty sick calls were reported. Past president pins will be given to Mrs. Reggie Wolfe Sr. and Mrs. Moody next month.

The program included the singing of "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy," and "America the Beautiful," "An Airplane Island Tour," and poem, "The World Bible." Taking part were Mrs. Moody, Mrs. William Greer, Mrs. Bruce Bower, Mrs. Earl Sills, Mrs. Vernon Miller. The devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Raymond Koontz, followed by prayer. Twenty-three members attended.

Homemaker Week To Be Observed

National Home Demonstration Week will be observed tomorrow through Saturday. Here the Chesapeake Homemakers Club will open the week by attending services in a group at 10:30 tomorrow at LaVale Baptist Church.

Monday, Walter Schmidt, 1956 Maryland IFYE student, will speak at Flintstone High School at 8 p. m.; and May 6 the Allegany Homemakers Chorus will present a "States Songs" pageant at West Side School, with 12 clubs doing the pantomime. Fair chairmen will meet Monday at 1 p. m. at the Court House.

Home demonstration work is an educational program conducted by the US Department of Agriculture and University of Maryland Extension Service. County agents work with club leaders in food, nutrition, clothing, housing, home furnishing, home management, child care and family life, consumer buying and related subjects. Information developed by specialists is available to all homemakers.

International Farm Youth Exchange, conducted by the National 4-H Foundation and Extension Service, is designed to work for peace all over the world. Youths visit 50 other lands, living with farm families; learning a way of life by living it. Walter is the only one from Maryland this year. He will tell of his four-month stay in Austria, and the intimate little things of family life there.

WE ALL HAVE OUR DREAMS

Yes, we all have our dreams.

Perhaps sometimes, they are mere projections of our selfishness . . . hopes unfair to others . . . ambitions dangerous to ourselves.

But often, they are healthy, honest aspirations . . . opportunities which zeal deserves . . . victories which justice demands.

Is it wrong to dream such dreams? Does God frown on honest hope and love?

Of course not! Rather, God has given us minds able to dream, and souls courageous enough to seek the difficult—even the impossible.

But the Divine Architect helps man to model his castles in the air, and provides the tools for their building. With faith and the guidance of the Church a man may realize hopes and aims which a cynical world calls futile.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Church Laymen Plan Conclave At Meyersdale

Panel To Review Area Problems

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — The annual Consistorial Conference of the Somerset Area of Evangelical and Reformed Church will be held tomorrow at Amity Evangelical and Reformed Church in Meyersdale. Attending this conference will be consistorymen from churches of the area.

Topics to be discussed will be "The Kingdom Roll Call, Its Effectiveness and Values to Congregations," "The Local Church and the Synod in Relation to Local Vacant Pulpits," deciding the location or re-location of churches, the problems arising between pastor and congregation; "Does Pittsburgh Synod Need a Synodical Field Worker?"

To assist the president of Synod and to work out with the local churches of the Synod plans for effective Christian Education, Evangelism and Instruction, will also be discussed.

A Panel will present the answers to these problems and a "buzz session" will follow.

Dinner at the close of the session will feature John P. Saylor, member of the US Congress, as the speaker. Mr. Saylor is from Johnstown.

Panel members will include Carl Smith and Robert MacMillan of St. Mark's Church, Cumberland; and Eugene Harris and William C. Holbrook of Bowling Green Church.

Fairmont High Teacher Gets Science Honor

Miss Miller Named Teacher Of Year

KEYSER, W. Va., April 26 (AP) — The West Virginia Science Teachers Assn. has named Miss Myrtle M. Miller of Fairmont High School the state's "Science Teacher of the Year."

The physics and chemistry instructor at the east side Fairmont school was presented with a citation and cash award during tonight's West Virginia Academy of Science banquet program at Potomac State College here.

The executive council of the state science teachers group established the citation last November.

Miss Miller has been teaching in Fairmont junior and senior high schools for 30 years. She has been selected by the National Science Foundation for a fellowship to the Summer Institute for Science Teachers at the University of Minnesota. Miss Miller will study at Minnesota for eight weeks this summer.

The "Science Teacher of the Year" is a native of Tyler County and attended Marshall County schools. She just completed a two-year term as president of the West Virginia Science Teachers Assn.

Kiwanis Club Hears Texan

KEYSER — The Keyser Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the First Methodist Church with Don Heare, president, presiding. Kenneth Matlick, membership chairman of the newly formed Mental Health chapter, stressed the importance of supporting the unit. Club members were urged to join the chapter. James Handlan, president of the W. Va. Academy of Science, reported on the sessions held during the week at Potomac State College.

Rev. Charles Paskel introduced Fred Maaloe, guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Maaloe is a counselor of public relations and fund raising with National Fund Raising Services of Fort Worth, Tex. He spoke on the topic, "Service Clubs an American Custom." He stressed the fact that in America, to achieve goals, committees are formed, and indicated that one of the reasons for America's greatness is its fondness of organizing and working in groups.

Winners Listed In Art Exhibit At State College

148 Entries Shown In Various Media

FROSTBURG — The seven judges charged with the task of selecting the winning entries from the 148 pieces of art displayed at Compton Hall this week were faced with many difficult decisions. Entries in the exhibit were divided into three classes: Those executed by teen-age students; works of college students, and art entries by members of AAUW. According to members of the judging team the entries were so varied in coloring, line, media, technique and subject matter, to make a choice that would meet with popular approval was almost impossible. It was apparent, however, to even the most casual visitor that the winning entries chosen by the judges were outstanding.

Teen-age Group

The entries of the teen-age group were interesting, vivid in coloring and daring in line and clearly showing the influence of the modern trend in art. First place winner in this group in oils was by James Burgess of Chevy Chase. Second place honors went to Walter Bonfield of Chevy Chase and third place was awarded Alice Anne Lindsay of Washington County for her portrait "Hannah."

A water color "Apple Tree" by James Sofko of Washington County was outstanding as first prize winner in that media. Alice Anne Lindsay's "Serenity" took second honors and Sofko also took third place with a male character study "Perplexed."

"Head of A Child" in charcoal by Kay Snyder of Washington County was outstanding and was one of the entries that received the approval of the judges and the visitors as well. A pen and ink drawing "Figures" by Nancy Chichon of Cumberland took second honors in this division. A charcoal "Horse" by Valerie Tomlinson of Bethesda won third place while Michael Young of Silver Spring and Margaret Dirks of Bethesda were awarded honorable mention.

Sue Pettie of Chevy Chase took first place with her entry in tempera.

Felicia Murphy of Cumberland took second honors with her entry "Wake" and third place was awarded to Suzanne Reynolds of Cumberland for her tempera "Culture."

Walter Bonfield of Chevy Chase took honorable mention in the tempera class.

Graphic Art Entries

The graphic art entries submitted by high school students were exceptionally well handled. Theresa Hallman's "Horses" in linoleum was given first award in this group.

"Zebra" by Francis Garner of Silver Spring was awarded the red ribbon and third place was awarded Nancy Crichton of Silver Spring for her etching "Weeds."

Very few entries were submitted in the sculpture class, but those entered were exceptionally well handled. "The Monk" carved in light textured wood by Mae Jane Kendall of Frederick took first honors. Helen Tegnelli's "My Cat" was second and Douglas Myers of Chevy Chase was third with his entry "Head."

"Contented" a pleasant portrait of a cow, done in hammered copper by Nancy Grossnickel of Frederick was first in the crafts awards. Sue Rose's "Horse" in ceramics won second place and third place went to Donna Craze of the Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch with her clay sculpture "Woman Behold."

AAUW Entries
Entries by members of the various AAUW branches displayed a more professional touch. Mary Jane Lynch's "Bethesda-Chevy Chase Branch" "Still Life 1" and "Still Life 2" received first and second place in oils. Lillian Kent of the Silver Spring Branch took third honors with her "Georgeanne."

Constance Kurtz of the Cumberland Branch took first place in the water colors group with "Oasis." Second honors in this media went to Iris Cotter of Chevy Chase for her "Potomac Scene" and Eleanor Olso, also of Bethesda took third place with her entry "Witty."

Lillian Kent of Silver Spring took first and third places with her drawings, "Marine Life" and "Silver Heritage." Second place in this category was awarded to Charlotte S. Briggs of the Cumberland Branch for her "Portrait."

Schuler Briggs of Frostburg took both first and second places with his water colors "Rhododendrons" and "Roses" in that order. These entries were in the college student class and were definitely of professional calibre.

Mrs. Nelson Robison, Maryland state arts chairman is in charge of the exhibit and Miss Virginia Neff of the Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch is general chairman of the project, assisted by Miss Annie B. Gray of the Cumberland Branch and Mrs. Leo Helbig of the Garrett County Branch.

Members of the three branches acted as hostesses and served refreshments to the many visitors who braved the downpour to view the exhibit Thursday night.

Machine Use Is Approved

Only a few routine matters were transacted yesterday at the meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. Mrs. Edgar Matthews appeared before the board to request the county to loan a compressor and drill to the Mt. Olive Church, located on Bear Hill Road near Oldtown, to drill a hole for the foundation for an addition to the church. The commissioners authorized J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, to loan the equipment to the church. R. H. Mann, of Avenue E, Potomac Park, appeared before the board to request repairs to the roadway. It developed that the property owners along the roadway have not all granted rights of way to the county so that the county could work the thoroughfare properly. John Purdy appeared before the board to inquire about the placing of a 36-inch drainage pipe on property he owns on Maryland Avenue in McCoole. Purdy will furnish the pipe and the county will install it with Purdy being responsible for having it covered. About two feet of the pipe will be on the county right of way and the balance will be on Purdy's property.

Sen. See Named To State TB Post

State Senator Charles M. See has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association. He represented the Allegany-Garrett unit at the annual meeting held in Baltimore Thursday. The Association, he said, commended the Western Maryland unit for its record returns from last year's Christmas Seal campaign.

Gephart School Children Plant Trees At Park

Youngsters in the fourth grade of Gephart School, who realize the importance of conservation, yesterday morning planted a number of evergreen seedlings at Constitution Park. Senior Forest Warden Brook Bodkin and Miss Norma Nelson, teacher of the children, supervised the planting work. This is the second year the pupils have planted trees in the park and the project was part of their study of conservation and trees. The boys and girls set up and planned their own unit. As a measure to prevent erosion and to beautify the area, the children also planted maple trees on the school grounds.

Bond Money Investments Return $5,000

Through short-term investment of bond money, the City of Cumberland has picked up nearly $5,000 in additional revenue during the first three quarters of the current fiscal year. This comes about when the city floats a bond issue and receives the money in a lump sum to be doled out from time to time to the particular project for which the funds were borrowed. Ordinarily this would mean that the city will have on its hands "idle money" until the payments to contractors came due. But, according to Arthur B. Gibson, the money does not lay in the bank. The finance department invests these bond funds in short-term U. S. Treasury bills. They are bought so as to mature before the money is needed for the various projects. During the first nine months of this year, the city has realized $4,963.50 in interest on these invested funds. One item in the three-quarter report of John J. Long, city finance commissioner, presented to the Mayor and Council, shows interest of $1,988.25 being received on the investment of $248,011.75. A total of $735 in interest was received on the short-term investment of $99,265 of the money being held by the Water Department for the Lake Gordon Filtration plant improvements. In invested sewage treatment plant funds amounting to $297,579.75, interest came to $2,240.25.

Liquor Board Approves 155 Beer Licenses

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners yesterday completed issuance of licenses when it approved beer permits for 155 establishments.

One applicant, Alvin C. Green, who had asked for a Class D on and off sale beer license for premises on the McCoole-Westernport Road, was denied a license because there are fewer than 500 persons residing within one mile of the establishment. The place is located about one mile from McCoole and was formerly the Melody Manor.

The application for an off-sale beer license for Snyder's Store and Service Station on Williams Road was held up due to a remonstrance filed against the license by 35 residents in the neighborhood.

The premises are owned by C. W. Laing, who had operated a service station at the location for many years. The remonstrance stated the location is too near Fort Hill High School and Constitution Park and is in a residential area. It was also stated that it is located across the road from property owned by the Second Baptist Church, which plans a mission Sunday school there.

Licenses were granted to five applicants for premises where beer had been sold previously by other licensees. They were granted to Lenora M. Taschenberger, Oldtown Road; Catherine M. Breedlove, Craddock Drive in Cresaptown; Micheline L. Scarpelli, 101 East Main Street, Frostburg and John R. Purdy, 88 Queen Street, McCoole and Virginia L. Dawson, Oldtown Road. Twenty-four of the beer licenses were for off-sale and 131 for on and off sale.

Side Trips Possible On Times-News European Tour

The Times-News European lines for the Times-News group, Tour, scheduled for the three there will be no extra fare no extra charge except for hotels and meals for those interested in weeks from August 26 to September 16, has grown to the point land, Paris and London on the return flights, and tour members where it is possible to arrange side trips at little extra cost which cities and for how long during the TWA return trip from Rome to Paris, London and New York. They wish to remain under the stopover privilege. The only cost to them would be the hotel and meals made necessary by the stopovers, and the Conlon Travel Agency will arrange those reservations if requested by July 1. Alternately, it is well to note that a flight from Rome to Barcelona and Madrid, and thence to New York, with unlimited stopover, would be permitted with and should be made to the Conlon Agency, Pershing Street. Total cost of the tour will not exceed $1000 per person. Inquiry at the Times-News office will bring complete information and a fairly complete itinerary will be ready for distribution soon.

Defense Department Biggest Food Buyer

That an army travels on its stomach is an often repeated military maxim, and it was probably never more true than in the case of the U. S. Army. A study of food purchases made by the Defense Department shows this department to be one of the largest food buyers in the world. Between 1941 and the present time, the Defense Department has made annual purchases of between one and eight per cent of the nation's total farm output. In dollars, the range was from a low of $364 million to $3.1 billion. Food purchases have fluctuated according to the activity of the military, the low point having been registered in 1941 and the high in 1944.

As further indication of the importance of food to the fighting man, the relatively peaceful years between World War II and the Korean War each showed a declining food bill by the department. Purchases again climbed during the early 1950s, only to drop since the Korean ceasefire. These figures may be somewhat of a surprise to some members of Congress, as well as the public. Considering the size of military expenditures, which now comprise approximately 60 per cent of the huge federal budget, the relatively small percentage going for food would seem to be a bargain. Military tactics have changed considerably since the days when food and weapons were the primary concerns, fiscally. Today, weapons and related supplies far outdistance the cost of food. Thus, when Congress becomes embroiled with the Defense Department over the current military budget, as it must if any economies are to be effected, the emphasis will be on reduction of weapons expenditures. There is little fat to be trimmed from food monies.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Scott McLeod

I met a young fellow who does not like Scott McLeod. The reason: Scott McLeod, said the young fellow, is a friend of Joe McCarthy. "Is that not guilt by association to which you and your professors object?" I asked. "True, but McLeod is responsible for having many fine men driven out of the State Department." "Who are these fine men?" I asked. Silence.

One does not remember names, dates, places. It is only necessary to remember sentences, slogans, stereotypes. This is regarded as education. If the student remembers the professors' phrases, he gets a good mark. In time, he believes them.

I pursued the argument: "Do you know what Scott McLeod's job has been in the State Department?" The answer was ambiguous. "Well," I said, "his formal title has been Administrator, Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs. This has to do with screening personnel to avoid the employment of blabbermouths, homosexuals and subversives. Blabbermouths are bad because give them a drink or two and they talk their heads off. Often they quote their superiors. Blabbermouths are beloved by newspapermen because while they may be wrong in detail they provide tips that can be followed up. There are more male than female blabbermouths. I know a blabbermouth who always says more than he ought to and then worries for weeks whether he has not wrecked his family. A fellow in the code room of an embassy must not be a blabbermouth. If he prefers being the wise guy in a bar or at a cocktail party, he ought to apply for some other job than in the State Department. He could do less harm at the hardware counter of a department store.

"The homosexual, male or female, is always subject to blackmail. So is the married man who chases after other men's wives. This may be some kind of indoor sport but it is no good for the State Department. Such people have to be screened out. The subversive is obviously out of order. Maybe glamorous persons are more susceptible to blackmail than the dull steady type, but the State Department cannot afford to have people about who are susceptible to blackmail.

"Somebody has to do the screening. If it is not one man, it will be another, and the job changes with the times. For instance, when this country was at war with Germany, those who were pro-German were dangerous for the State Department; when we were at war with Japan, anyone who was pro-Japanese became a menace. Now we are in a state of a cold war with Soviet Russia and therefore the pro-Russian and the pro-Communist are a menace. Somebody has to do the job of checking personnel in this sensitive agency and, I suppose, whoever does it will make a lot of personal enemies."

So again, I asked the young man where he heard that Scott McLeod, our new Ambassador to Ireland, is such a bad man. Well, it all came out in college. The word had gone forth to smear a public official because he did his duty, whatever his duty happened to be.

Bad thinking is involved in all this because whereas none of us are perfect and the probability is that if one searched hard enough, he would find much that is unsatisfactory in each one of us, here was a conclusion, held with vehemence and blushing anger but without any effort to get at a single fact to uphold a point of view.

It is the avoidance of facts to which I object; the repetition of sentences and phrases, of charges and conclusions spoke in classrooms and repeated everywhere. That certainly is not an intellectual approach to anything. While many of these young men refer to themselves as intellectuals, they reject the work that an intellect must do to catalogue facts, to screen out unrelated matter, to avoid subjective reactions and not to reach a conclusion based on nothing but hearsay. Since the 1930s American intellectuals have been willing to be led by stereotypes, by phrases which may apply to some things but which are not generalizations applicable to all human problems. The assumption that because one wants to work in the Foreign Service, he ought to be allowed to work in it without adequate screening, is an untenable position in these times.

Jordan's Troubles Illustrate Need For USIA

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The struggle inside Jordan vividly illustrates the dilemma in the Middle East that confronts the United States and the other Western powers.

The Communists are conspicuously active—the young king admits it in a published interview with the representatives of the American press. The plain effort of the Soviet conspiracy is to overthrow the existing regime in Jordan and line it up with Nasser of Egypt and the pro-Communist clique that has taken possession of Syria.

Shall the United States look on indifferently? Leaflets condemning the Western nations, including the United States, are being distributed in the streets by the Communists. Student groups which have been infiltrated by Communist agents are being incited to make riotous demonstrations. Shall there be nothing done to counteract this, and shall the Western powers let it all go by default and see the whole Middle Eastern situation grow more and more dangerous as armed conflicts ensue?

These questions go to the heart of the problem posed by the critics who have urged that America abandon her economic aid programs and curtail or abolish the United States Information Agency. Behind this drive is the belief that it will save money and that the budget can be thus trimmed and taxes soon reduced.

But the danger is that the budget may have to be increased if armed conflict breaks out. Then the outpourings of dollars may be many times more than any pitance now spent in countering Communist activity in the Middle East.

The Moscow propagandists are busy and energetic. They think the Eisenhower Doctrine is too tempting for the Arab countries and that since Lebanon, Iraq, Iran and Saudi Arabia are friendly toward the Doctrine, the other countries may likewise come within its helpful orbit and ties to the West will be strengthened.

And so the battle on the propaganda front goes on. Big stakes are involved. Out of little wars grow big wars. The peace of the Middle East is at best hard to manage. Referring to that area, Secretary of State Dulles in his speech in New York this week said: "Wherever such situations occur, they are always worsened by Soviet intrigue. The Kremlin likes troubled waters in which to fish."

Unfortunately the Moscow regime has billions available for such intrigue and for propaganda of all kinds including hundreds of "cultural missions," but in America any effective defense with propaganda or counterattacks is waved aside by too many people as "boondoggling."

Perhaps the most misunderstood feature of the work of the U. S. Information Agency is the jazz band tours that it has recently sponsored. A young American businessman who was in Southeast Asia at the time of one of these jazz-band visits writes to this correspondent:

"The Benny Goodman tour proved that jazz is the folk music of America. It has a way of cutting through the boundaries of language and culture that nothing else possesses. Additionally, it enables Americans to get through to the average citizens of each country more quickly than any diplomatic procedure. For example, in Rangoon the university is a problem for the United States. The students are prime targets for all propaganda for they are the future rulers of Burma. The Goodman band played two concerts indoors and held an outdoor seminar and jam session under the trees. Students flocked to hear the band. And the entire student attitude in Rangoon became more friendly toward the United States as a result. In Thailand, the king had Goodman to the palace four times so that he could play with the band. This was a tremendous asset to our people there—and they capitalized on the situation. My point is that we must fight our competition in these countries by all possible strategies, and the United States Information Agency enables us to cash in on our opportunities."

These are new problems, strange problems to the average American, who, feeling secure in a world of his own with all the comforts of a peaceful climate, little realizes that the "cold war" is going on every hour of the day in the smaller countries of Asia and Africa where the United States at the moment is determined that international Communism shall not get a firm foothold—and this costs money.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

The city council of Accra, capital of the infant African state of Ghana, has been suspended for mishandling municipal funds. Even brand new nations, it seems, have money troubles.

Iran and Russia have just settled a 150-year-old border dispute. It started so long ago it's surprising they remembered what it was originally about.

When offered a $50,000-to-$75,000-a-year TV job, Charles Van Doren, quiz wizard, again came up with the right answer. It was "Yes!"

The House appropriations committee said it was shocked to learn the estimated cost of the U. S. portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway had zoomed from $87 million to $133 million. Forty-six million bucks!—that is a lot of water over the dam!

The city government of Haifa, Israel, has decreed a $55 fine for anyone caught chomping peanuts in movie theaters. On curbing the audience's appetite this should have a sound effect.

An Australian couple set a world's dancing record by tripping the light fantastic non-stop for 18 hours. "Fantastic" is right!

A new fuel for planes and missiles is described as being "exotic." Ten-to-one they'll be calling it "glamor gas."

What's New Among The Laboratory Doctors

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

An uneven dental bite was found to be a common cause of dizziness by a Philadelphia physician-dentist team. The condition was relieved in all but two of 54 patients by means of dental treatment.

Streptovaricin, a new antibiotic, is highly effective in destroying the tubercle bacillus. This product still is in the laboratory stage of development. Test tube studies show it to be 10 times stronger than streptomycin and 100 times more active than PAS. This is encouraging because streptomycin and PAS are highly regarded.

Many combinations of drugs are being introduced for various disorders and one of the latest is Meproloine. It is a tranquilizer mixed with the steroid, prednisolone, and is recommended for pain due to inflammation and muscle spasm. The compound should be helpful in rheumatoid arthritis and other rheumatic states.

Sulfoxide, a new drug for gout, shows promise of outdoing all other remedies for this malady. But time will be needed to substantiate the claims made for it. The product has been used successfully on 24 patients without inducing unpleasant side reactions. It encourages the excretion of large amounts of uric acid from the kidneys, lowering the level of this substance in the blood.

People will swallow almost anything to commit suicide. The latest, as might be expected, was one of the meprobamates (a tranquilizer). A 53 year old woman was found in a coma nine hours after taking 35 tablets. Her life was saved with oxygen and benzadrine. Another woman took between 90 and 95 tablets. She was given the same remedies along with the antidote, phenylephrine hydrochloride. She opened her eyes 30 hours later.

The new epilepsy remedy, Peg-anone, is effective in grand mal and psychomotor seizures. It is not as good as the old standby, diphenylhydantoin but serves as a good alternate because there are few side effects.

The tranquilizers have a new competitor in Pacatal, a normalizing drug. This product is said to have a greater calming effect on the mentally ill than chlorpromazine. It has been used on more than 1,000 patients and is reported to be safe and effective.

EATS RAW POTATO

Mrs. P. writes: I used to be satisfied with eating one raw potato a day but my craving has increased so that I now eat two. Am I harming myself in any way with this odd habit?

REPLY No. Raw potato is no more harmful than raw carrots or celery.

THE RETINA IN DIABETES

H. E. writes: Why does diabetes lead to hemorrhages in the eyes?

REPLY This may be due to poor circulation or to diabetic retinosis. The latter occurs in those who have had diabetes for more than 15 years and have not taken care of the disease or in those who have consumed too much fat in the diet.

LONGEVITY IN DISEASE

C. T. writes: Can a person with a weak heart live to be 90?

REPLY Yes, provided he lives an exemplary life. There's an old saying to the effect that if you want to reach old age, develop a chronic disease and take care of yourself.

FLUIDS WITH MEALS

Mrs. J. writes: In reducing, is it fattening to drink water and coffee with meals?

REPLY No. Neither has calories unless cream and sugar are added to coffee.

CAUSES OF PLEURISY

J. E. writes: Is pleurisy due to a germ?

REPLY Many germs are capable of causing this disease. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on pleurisy.

DROOLING

H. M. writes: Is there anything I can take at night to prevent slobbering on my pillow?

REPLY Not to my knowledge. Saliva is manufactured constantly, and when the individual sleeps on the side, it is easy for the secretion to roll out. This is less likely to happen when sleeping on the back. In addition, some persons secrete more saliva than others; and sleeping with the store teeth in the mouth also stimulates salivation.

FEARS LUNG DISEASE

N. Y. writes: Are shortness of breath and pain in the right chest symptoms of a bum lung?

REPLY Not necessarily. These complaints warrant a thorough examination including chest X-ray and an electrocardiogram.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Wig-Making Ex-Senator

Idaho's bewigged ex-Sen. Glenn Taylor, who lost by a hair in the Democratic primary to young Frank Church, is about to enter the wig-making business.

The ex-Senator, who ran for Vice President with Henry Wallace in 1948, will call his hairpiece the "Taylor Topper." It will be nationally advertised.

Taylor is an ex-cowboy who strummed and sang his way into the Senate in 1944, made a good record in the Senate, but got carried away by Henry Wallace's progressive friends in 1948. Now retired to private life, Taylor has already made a few toupees for friends and wears one himself. The secret is dental plastic, the stuff dentists use to take "impressions" for casting gold inlays.

Taylor uses the same plastic to take "impressions" of his clients' bald pates. Then he attaches hair to the plastic, assuring the wearers a perfect fit.

Glenn came by his new profession as the result of 25 years in show business, in the course of which he lost his hair. Taylor says he got tired of the gibes of his friends about his crows' feet and began to sport a toupee. He also began experimenting with wig-making techniques, eventually hitting upon the dental-plastic idea.

Merry-Go-Round

A member of the Eisenhower Cabinet, believe it or not, was a substantial contributor to Americans for Democratic Action, the liberal political group which carries on the traditions of FDR. ADA discovered during a recent housecleaning that Secretary of Labor Jim Mitchell contributed $100 when ADA was launched 10 years ago. . . . Those who met Mexico's charming comic Cantinflas at the Mexican Embassy the other night say he's done American-Night relations more good than the U. S. -Mexican Presidential confab at White Sulphur Springs last year. Mexican Ambassador Manuel Tello gave a jam-packed reception for the movie star after "Around the World in 80 Days" opened in Washington. . . . CAB Chairman James R. Durfee expects domestic air travel to exceed rail travel for the first time next year. . . . U. S. Chamber of Commerce officials are wondering if they weren't too successful in their campaign for government "economy." House economists took the cue from the Chamber by eliminating the Business and Defense Services Administration of the Commerce Department, the Chamber's chief lobby for big business in the government.

Undercutting Labor Laws

Republicans who don't believe in Ike's "modern Republicanism," plus conservative Democrats, have more method than madness in cutting key portions of the budget.

Certain significant slices will undercut certain laws which the solons don't want enforced. Take, for example, the $200,000 slice out of the Office of the Solicitor of the Labor Department. The public doesn't understand what this means, but it will result in the firing of 35 lawyers from the Solicitor's department.

This, in turn, will mean that the minimum wage act, the Walsh-Healy Act, and the Davis-Bacon Act will not be enforced.

These are laws which conservative Republicans-Democrats voted against in the first place, and the easiest way to undercut them is to hack away at their enforcement appropriation.

The Davis-Bacon Act requires contractors to pay the prevailing wage on government construction contracts. The Walsh-Healy Act sets wages on government contracts other than construction. The Fair Labor Standards Act sets minimum wages in all industry which comes under the Act.

Stewart Rothman, the Eisenhower Labor Solicitor, has been doing a better job of enforcing these laws than the Democrats did. But he can't do it without lawyers. And if he has to fire 35 lawyers, the laws won't be enforced.

The Secretary

By Brother Barnabas

Hats off to the Certified Professional Secretaries who are making the headlines this week throughout the nation.

They are the upper crust of that large group of workers found in every business and professional office who are popularly known as stenographers, but whose duties include also book-keeping, filing carbon copies and important papers, receiving and answering telephone calls, reminding the boss of his engagements and carrying on while he goes trout fishing.

In former times doctors, lawyers, teachers, preachers, with their "degrees" have rated among the professional societies.

Now other groups are moving into the field and claiming professional recognition and organizing societies to enforce their claims.

So we have professional secretaries, librarians, farmers, tonorial artists, dancing and boxing masters, even baby-sitters. Anybody having special knowledge or skill in any art or occupation is not averse to being called "Professor."

The principal of a small town public school in south-eastern Indiana dropped into the general store one Saturday morning wearing jumpers. He was greeted as "Professor" by his neighbors who respected his learning.

But one snobbish upstart from the metropolis 42 miles distant, stepped up and asked quizzically: "Of what are you a professor?" "Agriculture, sir, agriculture," replied the teacher-farmer.

Not the least important of these aspiring groups are the professional secretaries. They have made a study of commercial law, business administration, office techniques on a collegiate level, and having passed rigid tests are awarded the C.P.S. degree which might be comparable to a Ph.D. in philosophy.

If a secretary is neat, modish, personable and efficient she will draw a lot of business for her employer, and so pay for her hire more than she usually gets.

Once it is known she possesses all the above-mentioned capabilities she will have many bidders if not proposals.

Senator Joe McCarthy was so sold on his private secretary that he married her, thus assuring her of steady employment and enabling him to make more income tax deductions than when he was running hog-wild.

Many a man without his secretary would be helpless. She knows more about his business than he does, but she doesn't let him know it.

She has savoir-faire, a price-less ingredient. When a casual visitor wants to consume her boss's time she is apt to say, "The 'Guvnor' is in conference. He will be pleased to see you later. Please call again."

If during one of these confidential periods a caller bolts into the inner sanctum and finds an attractive blond on her boss's knee she will say, "Don't be shocked! It's an ancient druidic ceremonial handed down from the primitive Laplanders."

Her high school or collegiate training fits her for correcting her employer's spelling, punctuation, syntax, so that when the perfected copy of his dictation is laid on his desk for his signature he will say, "I didn't know it was in me."

If a secretary in a doctor's office shifts to a minister's study she is likely to get her vocabularies mixed.

In preparing an obituary notice she may affix: "The deceased was 'afflicted' with the Congregational church 40 years."

The local branch provides a scholarship in a business school out of their own personal earnings supplemented by the proceeds of a ball each year.

Once a year they give a dilly for their employers. It's a dinner, a dance, a lot of interchange of pleasantries and good will. The guests send corsages, and they all trip the light fantastic to the accompaniment of the orchestra in an atmosphere of sweet-scented femininity, the men clobbering in tuxes.

"Dictated but not read" is a dangerous addendum to the dictation of a man on his way to the train.

Reporting on his honeymoon, the man read on his return, "We were united in 'holy deadlock.' Sue and I." And further down, "I stood on the 'bride' at midnight."

A prolific writer of books spent much of his time on the road and found it necessary to write his chapters on the wing. He would dictate to the public stenographer at the hotel where he would be spending the night and in the morning would be handed what he had dictated.

Climaxing one of his chapters, he had said, "What this country needs is a new cosmos." What he read was:

"What this country needs is a new cosmetic." Draw your own conclusions. Secretarily yours.

America's Sub Fleet Grows

Launching of atomic sub Nautilus, Jan. 21, 1954.

Uncle Sam's submarine arm is putting on more muscle.

A new and powerful fleet of missile-carrying and atomic-powered underwater ships is in the works. Congress recently authorized the building of five additional nuclear subs. As the program advances, two nuclear submarines have been built, eight are building, three are contracted for and two are authorized and four are planned for in the new budget — a total of 19.

These are not all. The Navy also is developing utility submarines. It already has underwater troop and cargo carriers, and oil tankers. Rear Admiral Elton W. Grenfell, Pacific Fleet submarine commander, predicted recently that all America's offensive submarines in the future will have atomic power and guided missiles. He said the Navy at present has under construction or conversion many subs capable of launching guided missiles with atomic warheads. "The gravest threat in the world," he pointed out, "is a sub that can carry an atomic guided missile. It has stealth combined with tremendous hitting force."

Three of these new submarines are being built at the Mare Island Navy Yard, Vallejo, Calif., where these pictures were taken. They are the Greyback, the Halibut, and the Sargo. The Greyback, a conventional sub, is being built as a missile-launching craft. The Sargo is a nuclear-powered attack submarine, a little smaller but similar in shape to the Nautilus, America's first atomic sub, and the Halibut is a nuclear and guided-missile submarine.

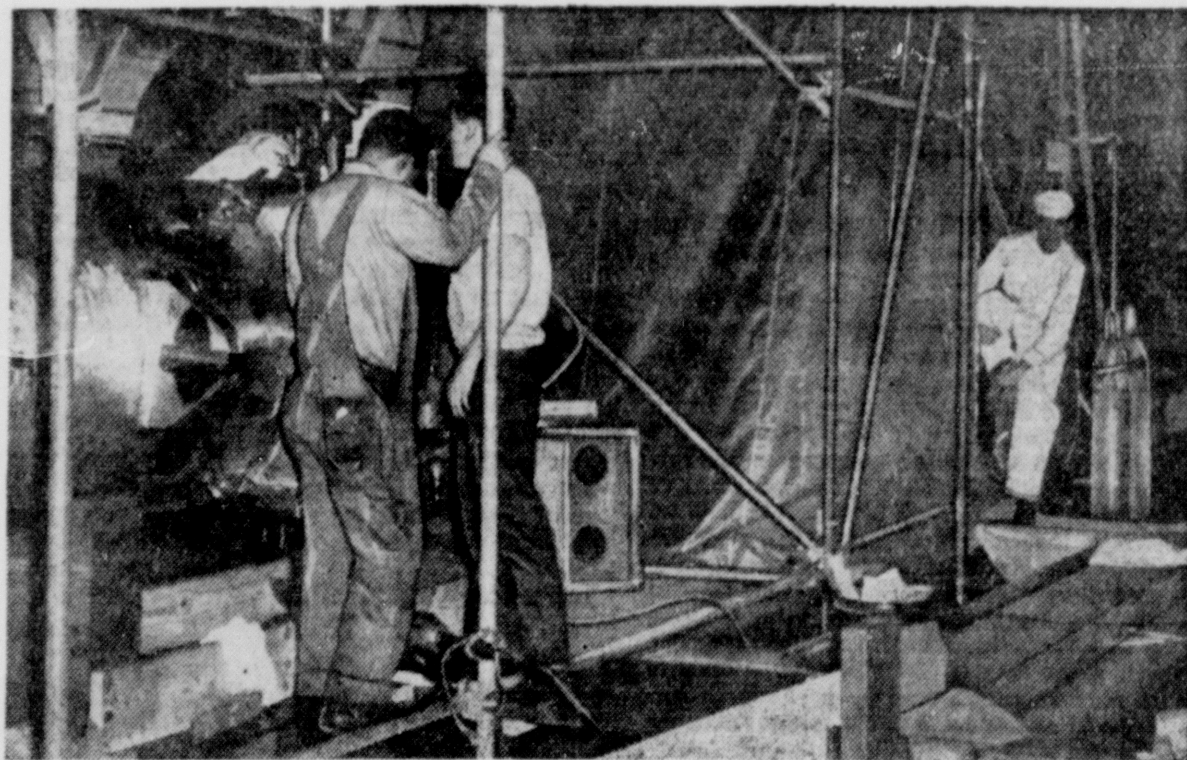

Wearing surgically clean clothing, pipefitter Ben Benevente enters "clean area" at navy yard.

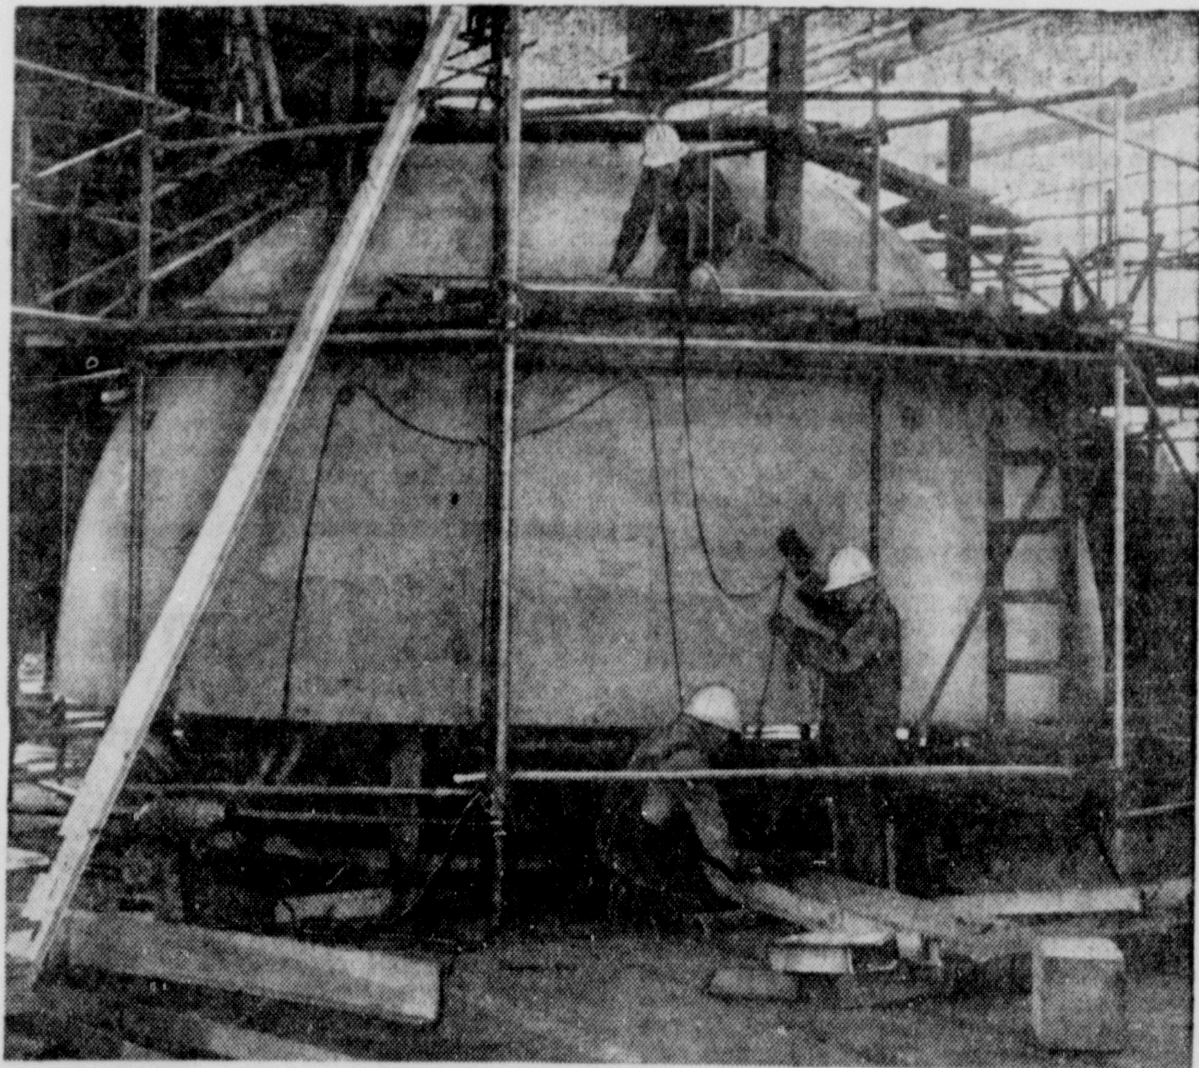

Marvin Gann, welder, and Gerald Inman, inspector, right, assemble component part of submarine inside "surgically clean" assembly tent at Mare Island Navy Yard.

Shipfitter R. Marshall, in front, and sandblasters Jack Duncan and William Carlos work on section of submarine Greyback.

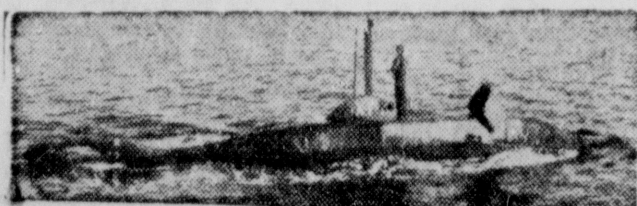

White-clad workman emerges from plastic tent where parts for sub are put together. At left, two men work on other parts which will eventually be placed in tent.

Workmen work on huge dome section which will be fitted inside the bow of the Halibut. Sub's dome will serve as arsenal for "hangar" for guided missiles.

Allegany High School's Campers went down to defeat for the first time this season in a 10-inning battle yesterday at Mt. Savage where Coach Joe Carter's Indians pushed over two tallies in the third extra frame and cracked their three-game losing streak. The score was 3-2.

With the score knotted at 1-1 going into the tenth, Ronnie Bruce doubled and Bill Brode singled to give the Campers a 2-1 lead.

Wild Pitch Decides
Mt. Savage, however, put the game on ice in its half of the inning when George Bishields singled, scored the tying run on Pitcher Wayne Flegle's three-base clout and the latter crossed the platter with the deciding tally on a wild pitch by relief hurler Gene Cave.

Cave came on the scene in the ninth inning when Mt. Savage loaded the bases with none out on Bob Paye, Allegheny's starting pitcher. Gene put out the fire by fanning two batsmen and forcing the third to go out via an outfield fly.

Paye yielded only four hits and struck out 17 batsmen before giving way to Cave in the 9th stanza.

Flegle scattered nine hits, including three by Ronnie Diehl and two by Mike Lease, and whiffed 11 sticky wielders.

The loss was Allegheny's first against two victories and a tie. Mt. Savage's record is 1-3 in the Allegheny County Interscholastic League.

Both Coach Gene Shaw and Glenn Davis, Allegheny right fielder, were ejected from the game by the umpires in the 9th inning. Davis was charged with bowling over Darrell Glass on a play at first base. Shaw, who came to the defense of his player, also was tossed out of the game.

Three Games Postponed
Wet grounds forced the postponement of three other league games scheduled yesterday.

The Beall at Fort Hill game has been reset for Monday at 4 p. m., and Valley will play at Bruce High May 6. No date was set for the rained out Flintstone at LaSalle game. Box:

THE BLAZERS of Montgomery Blair High School, of Silver Spring; North Hagerstown's Hubs and South Hagerstown's Rebels will be among the schools in the eleventh annual Fort Hill Invitational Track and Field Meet Saturday, May 4, according to Coach William P. Hahn.

Montgomery Blair "has" won the Maryland Class "A" title two years in a row and romped off with first place in the Fort Hill event in 1956.

The Silver Spring thincleds recently finished third in the George Washington Relays, an indication that M-B still packs plenty of wallop.

Bob Purkey Winner, Thomas Hits Homer

PITTSBURGH, April 26 (AP)—Righthander Bob Purkey scattered nine hits tonight in pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-1 victory over Brooklyn, knocking the Dodgers out of first place. Frank Thomas, playing first base for the benched Dale Long, kayoed southpaw pitcher Johnny Podres with a two-run homer in the sixth inning.

The defeat dropped the Dodgers a full game back of the Braves who clobbered Cincinnati 9-2. Duke Snider accounted for the only Dodger run with a homer in the eighth inning. It was his third of the campaign.

The victory snapped a four-game losing streak for the Pirates who were greeted by a crowd of 26,918 as they opened a 16-game home stand.

Purkey, who last Sunday pitched a one-hit, 7-inning relief stint against the Dodgers to pick up his first victory of the year, gave up a hit in every inning except the ninth. But he was about invincible when the Dodgers had men on base.

Yankees Fall Before Sisler Of Bosox, 6-2

Williams Hitless; Sturdivant Loser

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Jim Piersall's three-run homer and Jackie Jensen's two-run double gave Dave Sisler and the Boston Red Sox a 6-2 victory over the New York Yankees today despite home runs by Enos Slaughter and Gil McDougald.

Ted Williams, who has been setting a torrid spring pace, went hitless in four official trips, walking once. His batting average dropped 50 points to .405. It was the first game in which Williams failed to hit safely this season.

Boston got to Tom Sturdivant for a run in the second on Dick Gernert's double and Gene Mauch's single to right. The Yankees came right back to tie in their half of the second when Slaughter, who will be 41 tomorrow, hit his first home run of the year into the upper deck in right field.

A damaging error by Jerry Coleman, who let Sisler's grounder slip between his legs, set up the two-run Red Sox spurt in the third. After Frank Malone singled, Sturdivant steadied to retire Billy Klaus and Williams. Gernert then walked and Jensen doubled to left, scoring Sisler and Malone.

McDougald's leadoff homer in the fourth narrowed the gap to 3-2 but the clincher was Piersall's smash into the lower left field seats after Klaus and Williams were walked by relief man Tommy Byrne in the seventh.

The only Yankee hit after McDougald's homer was a bunt single by Bill Skowron in the eighth.

It was the second straight victory, both over the Yankees, for Sisler, 24-year-old son of George Sisler of the Hall of Fame. Both were complete games. The defeat was Sturdivant's first.

Mickey Mantle made 10 putouts in center field, only one short of the American League record held jointly by five men.

A crowd of 19,394 turned out on a warm, sunny afternoon for the first meeting of the two teams at Yankee Stadium.

A two-hit pitching performance by Dewaine Murphy snapped Keyser High School's five-game winning streak yesterday as Coach Paul Kalbaugh's Elk Garden High School tilters posted their fourth consecutive triumph in the Potomac Valley Conference by edging the Golden Tornado at Elk Garden by the score of 2-1.

Moorefield (5-0) and Elk Garden (4-0) are now the only unbeaten teams in the 15-school baseball circuit.

Elk Garden bunched three hits in both the second and sixth innings for its runs. In the second, Tom Milavec's double and John Hershberger's single gave the Elks a 1-0 lead. Ray Hinkle's two-bagger, Paul Tasker's single and Tom Milavec's two-base belt produced what proved to be the winning run in the sixth frame.

Murphy had a no-run, no-hit game in his grasp until the final stanza when Melvin Davis singled for Keyser. A passed ball, hit batsman and Jim Ridings' base hit averted a shutout defeat for Coach "Tack" Clark's team.

In notching his third straight win of the season, Murphy gave up one base on balls, hit two batsmen and fired the third strike past ten batsmen. "Butch" Ryan, Keyser hurler, suffered his first loss against a single victory. Tom Milavec obtained two of the Elks' six safeties yielded by Ryan.

McCauley Winner, 8-0

Capon Bridge High School remained right on the heels of the leaders by racking up its sixth win in seven starts yesterday at the expense of the West Virginia School for the Deaf in a game played at Romney. The score was 8-0.

Bill McCoy's single cheated John McCauley, Capon Bridge pitcher, of a no-hitter. The win was McCauley's 4th against a single loss. He fanned eleven to increase his season total to 35 victims in five games.

Coach Arno Hott's aggregation scored all its runs in the first five innings. Danny Cooper rapped a double and single to account for two of the winners' six hits yielded by McCoy, the loser, and reliever Johnny Popovich.

Panthers On Rampage

Coach Gus Smith's Franklin Panthers teed off on Mathias pitchers for 22 hits and easily won to the tune of 21-8 at Mathias.

The victory was the third in five outings for the Panthers who collected eight extra base hits—five triples, two doubles and a home run.

Sam Smith, winning pitcher, had four hits including a three-run homer in the fifth. Jim Conrad had a perfect day at the plate with a triple and four singles and Bill Showalter hit safely four times, including a triple with the hassocks loaded.

Franklin scored eight runs in the third and closed with a nine-run outburst in the seventh. The loss was the first of the season for Mathias in three starts.

Vikings Cut Loose

Petersburg High School's Vikings broke a four-game losing streak by crushing the Circleville High School Indians by the score of 20-3.

The Vikings banged 13 hits, including a pair of doubles and one single by Dick Huffman and three one-base knocks by Jack Sherman and took advantage of 17 bases on balls issued by Jack Yokum who went the route for the losers.

The loss was the fourth for Circleville against a single victory.

Bassey Gets Nod

WASHINGTON, April 26 (INS)—Hogan (Kid) Bassey, of Nigeria, Africa, tonight survived an eight-count knockdown and won a unanimous 12-round decision over Miguel Berrios, of Puerto Rico, in a featherweight title elimination bout.

Bassey, British Empire champion, earned the right to meet Cherif Hamia, French titlist, for the crown vacated by Sandy Sadler.

Terps Cop Title

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 26 (AP)—Maryland won its first Atlantic Coast Conference tennis championship in history today, winding up its season with a 9-0 thumping of North Carolina State.

The Terps defeated every other team in the conference this season to end up with a record of seven victories and no defeats. They were 10-1 in overall competition.

Potomac Valley Speedway Races Set For Sunday

The Potomac Valley Racing Association will launch the automobile racing season in this area Sunday by presenting a program of six events at the Potomac Valley Speedway, a one-third mile track near Fort Ashby, W. Va.

Leading riders of West Virginia, Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania will participate in events that will feature stock and sportsman's modified cars.

The main event will be over 25 laps or 8½ miles and will be preceded by five heat races.

First event on the card is scheduled for 2 p. m.

Braves Trim Redlegs, 9-2, Retain Lead

Milwaukeeke Belts Four Home Runs

CINCINNATI, April 26 (AP)—Milwaukeeke's Braves sprayed 10 hits around Crosley Field tonight, including 4 home runs and took undisputed possession of first place in the National League with a 9-2 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Joe Adcock, a former Red, accounted for 5 runs with 2 homers.

Adcock's two homers gave the Braves a five-run lead before Cincinnati could punch out a score. And it gave the 29-year-old slugger the National League homer lead with four.

Johnny Logan and catcher Del Crandall also belted home runs for Milwaukee.

Cincinnati scored in the fourth inning when outfielder Wally Post crashed a homer over the left field wall.

Adcock's grand slam homer in the third inning gave Milwaukee a 5-0 lead. He had started the scoring in the second inning with a homer over the centerfield wall.

Starter John Klippstein, who gave up the big Adcock homers, sustained the loss. Warren Spahn, an old Redleg nemesis, went the route for Milwaukee, giving up nine hits.

Casper Leads In Derby Open

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 26 (AP)—Bill Casper Jr. turned into the home stretch of the Kentucky Derby Open Golf Tournament today with a two stroke lead over the field as par continued an elusive target on the tough Seneca course.

The burly Bonita, Calif., stroker nursed a tricky 15-foot putt into the cup on the last hole to finish today's third round with 207—six under par.

He took a 71 for the day to go with a pair of 68s for the first two rounds.

Sunday's final 18 holes will find Johnny Pott, Peter Thomson, and Jack Fleck battling head and head in the runner up spot with 209s.

Six strokes off the pace were Bo Winger, Odessa, Tex., and Art Wall Jr., of Pocono, Manor, Pa., each with a 54-hole total of 213.

Concord Plays Potomac State In Double Bill

Opener At Keyser Today At 1 P. M.

Potomac State College's baseball team returns to action today to face the Concord College Mountain Lions of Athens in a West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference doubleheader today at Stayman Field, Keyser.

Two seven-inning games are scheduled, the first at 1 o'clock. Concord won six out of nine games, including a split in a two-game series with Marshall College.

Before going on their Easter vacation, Coach John Fox's Catamounts had reeled off four wins in a row to make their season record 4-1.

Potomac lost its opening conference game of the season to Shepherd College, 14-10, then defeated Alderson-Broadus College of Philippi, 8-2. In non-conference tilts two wins were scored over Ashland (Ohio) College and one victory over Mount Union (Ohio) College.

Coach Fox will select his starting pitchers from Allen Gates, Justin "Tuffy" Richardson and Sam Michael.

Briggs Quits Executive Job With Detroit

"Spike" Ends Era In Tiger History

DETROIT, April 26 (AP)—Walter O. (Spike) Briggs quit today as executive vice president, general manager and a director of the Detroit Baseball Club, ending an era in the history of the American League Tigers.

A front office squabble resulted in his resignation. And for the first time since his late father, Walter O. Briggs Sr., bought into the club in 1920 there is no Briggs in the management. No successor was named immediately.

Yesterday the 45-year-old Spike was quoted as saying new owners who acquired the Tigers from his father's estate for $3½ million dollars last summer "aren't going to give me any trouble—I'll walk out first."

When it was published, Briggs denied the quote.

But today he took his walk. It followed by a week the resignation of Fred Knorr, who had headed an 11-member syndicate of new owners, as president. Knorr said pressure of his radio and television business required more time but sports writers attached more significance to it than that.

Some reported disagreement on policy had developed. This never was confirmed.

Herold (Muddy) Ruel announced a couple of weeks ago he was going on a year's leave of absence as assistant to the president. He had been general manager before the new owners took over and reportedly was dissatisfied with "doing nothing" under the new setup.

Harvey Hansen, 61-year-old Detroit lumberman, was chosen to succeed Knorr. Newspaper reports said personnel director John McHale had been empowered to make player deals for the Tigers, who have won only two of eight games this season. Hansen denied it.

Mountaineers' Spring Game Set For May 4

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 26 (AP)—West Virginia University's spring football practice is scheduled to conclude with the annual "Golds" versus "Blues" intrasquad game on the afternoon of May 4.

The game will be played on one of the athletic fields of the University's 260-acre Evansdale Campus. Mountaineer Field on the main campus is undergoing a turf rejuvenation.

Spring practice resumed late this week following an eight-day Easter vacation.

Television And Radio by John Crosby

How To Get Rid Of $10,000,000

Now that radio ceases to trouble anyone very much, there are a number of delightful shows on it that should have been on it thirty years ago when more people were listening. One of them is "Conversation" which is moderated by Clifton Fadiman and has had a number of charming and witty guests on it. Not long ago, the subject was "What I Would Do If I Had $10,000,000" and the guests were a couple of writers named S. J. Perelman and Harry Kurnitz, neither of whom is ever likely to have that sum.

Mr. Kurnitz' first suggestion was to establish a foundation that the other foundations aren't covering—"horse players, gypsy violinists. There must be many a fellow rambling around who has got a wonderful system for two dollar betting and just hasn't got the two dollars. Well, we would give him the two dollars from the foundation."

Mr. Perelman mentioned a group of rich folk he had just met who had bought and outfitted a schooner and were going to spend two and a half years going around the world. "It was pretty fine, pretty fine. But how much can you spend on a schooner?"

"Well, the best thing to do I think would be to buy a fleet of schooners," suggested Mr. Kurnitz, "and to put on it all the people you don't want to see for two and a half years."

"And then just stay in New York," amended Mr. Perelman. "Give them a fair wind, you know, and plenty of hardtack and set them sailing," said Mr. Kurnitz, "and then you could stay in New York on what was left and have a ball."

"Ten million dollars spent in getting rid of people you don't want to see sounds like a very sensible idea," said Mr. Fadiman.

"What a lovely place New York would be, too. Think of those cold streets," said Mr. Perelman.

"And the subways with nobody in them," from Mr. Fadiman.

"If I put on all my relatives, for instance, it would depopulate Brownsville," said Mr. Kurnitz thoughtfully.

The three conversationalists gently deplored the fact that the rich didn't live rich as they once did, even in Hollywood, a vineyard where both Mr. Kurnitz and Mr. Perelman have labored for many years. They said they had worked there in that period when opulence had degenerated into extreme simplicity. "And give them another few years and they will be living in caves and hunting each other with spears," said Mr. Kurnitz.

Mr. Perelman pointed out that showfolk in their desire to be remote from Hollywood were getting pretty fancy. "I am told there is a Brazilian plateau somewhere about 1,800 miles out of Sao Paulo — very distant from wherever it is—and a few lucky couples have brought tremendous acreage out in those parts. I believe you have to fly to Antofagasta and then go by burro-back up the Andes or whatever."

"A new race of commuters is springing up," contributed Mr. Kurnitz. "Mary Martin and Dick Halliday have a house there. And Janet Gaynor and her husband, Adrian. I believe they are represented by an agent who is a headhunter in his spare time. He is about four inches high which is two inches taller than most of the agents."

"You man he has been shrunk already, this agent?" asked Mr. Perelman. "Preshrunk agent."

"But this isn't fantasy," protested Mr. Perelman. "The idea there is to get remoteness and exclusiveness which you can't already, this agent?" asked Mr. Perelman. "Preshrunk agent."

Market Drops In First Decline Of This Week

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—The stock market dropped a bit today, registering its first decline of the week.

But trading was brisk most of the session. Some issues made wide moves to the upside or downside.

For the fourth straight session Bethlehem and Chrysler were the market favorites in that order. News of their record earnings reports, apparently anticipated for days, kept them in demand. Lukens Steel also was active, taking another tumble.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 40 cents to $180.60 with the industrials down $1.80, the rails down 30 cents and the utilities up 10 cents to another new 1957 high.

Of 1,173 issues traded, losses outnumbered gains by 519 to 387. There were 48 new 1957 highs and 39 new lows.

Of the 15 most active stocks, 9 rose, 5 fell and one was unchanged.

Bethlehem headed the list off at 45 1/2 on 78,700 shares. Second, Chrysler rose 1/4 at 79 1/2 on 69,500 shares. Third was Texas Gulf Producing, extending its recent gains by 2 1/2 to close at 45 1/2 on 64,800 shares.

Next came Lukens, off 2 1/2 at 89 1/2 and Penn-Texas, up 1 1/2 at 11 1/2.

Youngstown continued to gain on rumors of a favorable turn of events regarding the proposed Bethlehem merger. It was up 2 1/2 to 24 1/2. U. S. Gypsum rose 1 1/2, Northern Pacific 1 1/4, General Motors 1/4, United Aircraft 1/4 and Santa Fe 1/4. DuPont fell 1/4, Caterpillar 1/4, Kennecott 1/4 and Sinclair 1/4.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume totaled 850,000 shares compared with 870,000 yesterday. Gainers included Humble Oil, Standard Oil of Kentucky and Barium Steel. Among losers were "Pepperell," Hazeltine and Creole Petroleum.

N. Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Eggs steady to firm today. Receipts 20,200. Nearby: Whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 35-36; mediums 33-34; smalls 31-32. Butter steady. Receipts 316,000. Prices unchanged.

get in the immediate vicinity of Hollywood.

"That's a very interesting development," admitted Mr. Fadiman. "Here are people spending millions, those who can afford it, buying privacy. It is curious that privacy should be a new luxury goods we didn't have fifty years ago."

Well, somehow the three conversationalists never did get rid of that mythical $10,000,000 but it was a good talk and somehow after it was over you got the idea that having money was an uncomfortable and even dangerous business and that you were much better off without it.

City Receives Go-Ahead On Armory Site

Options Are Held On 6-Acre Tract

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday that Major Gen. Milton A. Reckord has given the city the green light for the acquisition of land for Cumberland's new National Guard Armory.

He said Gen. Reckord reported the Maryland Military Department is ready to proceed with construction when land for the training center is decided by the city.

Mayor Eves said the city has secured options on about all of the land and can now proceed to acquire the property.

The area chosen, he said, is in Ridgedale Addition above the Ridgedale Reservoir, facing the city. About six acres of unimproved land is involved.

Plans for the building are being prepared by S. Russ Minter, local architect. The basement level will be used as a garage and storage, a rifle range and vehicle repair shop. The main floor will house the drill hall and the top level will be used for classrooms and offices.

Acquisition of the land will be the city's contribution toward the new armory. Seventy-five per cent of the construction cost will be borne by the government and the rest by the state.

No decision has been announced as to the disposition of the present Armory. The Mayor and Council last year discussed with the Recreation Board the possibilities of acquiring the building as a recreation center. The board did not favor the idea.

The building has also been proposed as a site for the County Health Department, which now is quartered in the Public Safety Building and the basement of City Hall.

Local Stores To Get More Floor Space

Renovation work now under way in two local stores will result in much more floor space.

Such projects are in progress at the Wilson Hardware Company, Inc., 30 North Mechanic Street, and Carnegie Park Sports-wear, corner of Baltimore and North Mechanic streets.

A new front is being planned at the hardware store where quite a bit of indoor work already has been done. The front will be of modern design and the entrance will be relocated.

A stairway leading to the second floor of the two story brick building has been relocated and partitions of a number of small rooms on the second floor have been torn out. With the completion of the work the store plans to maintain a large room for display of sporting goods on the second floor.

Some of the second story windows have been removed to make room for more shelving space.

A section of the restaurant and cocktail lounge occupied in recent years by Anton's, 7 North Mechanic Street, is being renovated for use by the sports-wear store.

Paul Chabot, manager of the store which next month marks its 20th year of business at the present location, said yesterday that floor space will be about doubled.

This will mean more room for clothing display as well as room in the rear of the store for tailoring facilities and storage.

A large display window will be built on the Mechanic Street side of the building, Chabot added. Workmen have removed the glass brick front of the former restaurant and are now working on the floor. The project is expected to be completed by the end of May.

District Legion Meets Here Sunday

Mountain District American Legion will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the home of Fulton Myers Post, 106 North Mechanic Street. Charles Bender, district vice commander, said one of the topics on the agenda will be the subject of a District Junior Baseball League. Robert Koch, department of Maryland Junior Baseball chairman, is expected to attend.

Plan Civil Defense Alert

Plans for a state-wide Civil Defense alert, "Operation Flame," a rehearsal for fire fighting equipment and rescue teams, were discussed last night at LaVale Fire Hall. Shown (clockwise around table) are William G. Barger, Allegany County CD director, Fred Tichnell, Garrett CD director, Cromwell C.

Zembower, regional fire coordinator for the four westernmost counties of Maryland, George Comp, Garrett County fire coordinator, Joseph Wenrich, assistant fire coordinator for Allegany County and William A. Chenoweth, acting state fire coordinator.

Md. Liquor Drinking Up In 1957

BALTIMORE, April 26 (AP) — Marylanders drank 59,889 more gallons of liquor during the first three months of this year than in the same period of 1956, Comptroller J. Millard Tawes reported today.

The total for the three months was 921,573 gallons. The increased drinking means more taxes for the State, counties and Baltimore City. The State gets a $1 a gallon and the subdivisions 50 cents.

Tawes reported that he is mailing checks totalling $460,786 to the city and 22 counties. Garrett does not get any because no liquor is sold there.

The subdivision share is nearly 7 per cent higher than during the first three months of last year.

The counties and Baltimore City so far this fiscal year have received $1,682,406 in liquor taxes, an increase of nearly 10 per cent over the first three quarters of the previous year.

The latest distribution with total for the fiscal year to date in parentheses includes:

Allegany $13,076 ($50,563); Frederick $8,430 ($31,586); Howard $4,878 ($17,839); Montgomery $22,755 ($81,338); Washington $12,002 ($49,968).

Woodworking Contest Set

Letters were mailed yesterday to the three vocational industrial arts instructors in Allegany County public school asking each select the outstanding woodwork students by Friday, May 3.

The letter was sent by J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of industrial education, to Lee R. Alexander, Fort Hill High School; J. Stanley Hunter, Beall High School, and James R. Hager, Bruce High School. A copy also went to Ralph Porter, president of Local 1024, Carpenters Union, which sponsors the contest.

This is the fourth consecutive year for the contest. Each year the county winner becomes an apprentice member of the carpenters union.

From each teacher Mr. Lonnholm wants the name, address, phone number, age and the nature of the project he will submit.

At 10 a. m. Saturday, May 11, the contest judging committee will interview the three candidates. Each candidate will deliver his completed project to the Board of Education office before 5 p. m. Friday, May 17. Judging will take place at 10 a. m. May 18.

Prizes will be awarded at the commencement exercises of the respective schools.

Knights Of Pythias Plan Meeting Here Wednesday

Queen City Lodge 136, Knights of Pythias, will be host to Pythians of Allegany County Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Odd Fellows' Building on Virginia Avenue.

Louis J. Barnes, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias in Maryland, will attend the meeting. Past Grand Chancellor Nelson W. Russler will be master of ceremonies.

The program will include short talks by Mr. Barnes; Grand Prelate J. Walter McKee; Julius E. Schindler and Odith M. Brotemarkle, past grand chancellors; A. Charles Stewart of Frostburg, a former member of the board of directors, and John Schramm of Lonaconing, district deputy grand chancellor.

Court Dockets Two Industrial Accident Cases

Record Transcripts Are Filed Here

Transcripts of the records in two appeals from State Industrial Accident Commission rulings were docketed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

One case involves John W. Bierman, RFD 4, as claimant; Consolidated Engineering Company Inc. as employer, and the Maryland Casualty Company, as insurer.

Bierman, who was then 58 years old, was injured January 13, 1956, while working at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant site when he fell eight to ten feet from a form into a hole. His injuries were diagnosed as sprain of the neck, sprain and contusion of the left shoulder, sprain and contusion of the lumbar spine region and mild concussion.

Commissioner R. Duncan Clark ruled that Bierman's temporary total disability ended July 21, 1956, and that his permanent partial disability amounted to 50 per cent industrial loss. He was awarded a total of no more than $6,250 in disability payments at the rate of $25 a week from July 22, 1956. The employer and insurer, through their attorney, E. Seymour Ziegler, appealed. Bierman was represented by Milton Gerson.

The second transcript involved Harry Leasure of Hancock as claimant; R. S. Dillon Sr., also of Hancock, as employer, and the Maryland Casualty Company as insurer.

Leasure broke his left ankle June 7, 1954, while spraying in one of the Dillon orchards. He fell off the front end of the sprayer and the sprayer wheel ran over his left ankle.

Commissioner Clark decided in this case that Leasure's total disability extended to February 6, 1956. His permanent partial disability has amounted to 60 per cent loss of the use of his right foot. He was awarded $25 a week for 90 weeks beginning February 7, 1956.

Leasure, through Attorney Edward J. Ryan, appealed the decision, and C. William Gilchrist, as attorney for the employer and insurer, filed a cross appeal.

St. Patrick's To Have 5 P. M. Mass Sunday

Beginning Sunday an evening mass will be celebrated at 5 p. m. at St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Rt. Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor, announced masses will be celebrated at 5:30 p. m. on Holy Days of Obligation and First Fridays. Holy Communion will be distributed at these masses.

The Sunday 5:30 a. m. mass is being discontinued.

'Operation Flame' Slated Next Month In CD Alert

The part Allegany and Garrett counties will play in "Operation Flame," a forthcoming state-wide Civil Defense alert involving fire fighting equipment and rescue teams, was discussed last night when local, county and state officials met at LaVale Fire Hall.

The meeting was called by Cromwell C. Zembower

Daylight Saving Time Begins Here Tomorrow

Daylight Saving Time becomes effective tomorrow at 2 a. m. and most people will turn their watches or clocks forward an hour before going to bed tonight in order to avert the usual confusion.

B&O passenger schedules will remain on Eastern Standard Time, although a few times have been changed to conform with the beginning of "fast time."

Eastbound, No. 10 will leave at 3:50 a. m. EDT, instead of 2:50 a. m. EST; Cleveland Night Express, 5:08 a. m. EDT, instead of 4:08 a. m. EST; the combined 29-26, Columbian - Ambassador, 6:02 a. m. EDT, instead of 5:21 a. m. EST; Capitol Limited, 6:17 a. m. EDT, instead of 5:26 a. m. EST, daily except Sunday local to Washington, 8:10 a. m. EDT, instead of 7:20 a. m. EST; Sunday local, 8:10 a. m. EDT, instead of 7:10 a. m. EST; No. 8, 1:15 p. m. EDT, no change; No. 22, the Speedliner, 3:03 p. m. EDT, no change; No. 12, 8:50 p. m. EDT, instead of 7:50 p. m. EST.

For westbound trains, the new times in Daylight time, compared with the present Eastern Standard times, are: No. 17, 1:33 a. m., no change; No. 7, 3:02 a. m., instead of 2:32 a. m.; No. 21, the Speedliner, 1:15 p. m., no change; No. 9, 5:30 p. m., instead of 5:50 p. m.; No. 5, Capitol Limited, 8:30 p. m., no change; Columbian-Ambassador, 8:45 p. m., no change; No. 23 (Parkersburg), 2:15 p. m., instead of 1:40 a. m., and No. 11 (St. Louis), 12:47 p. m., instead of 11:47 a. m.

Allegany Airlines will operate on Daylight Saving Time. The eastbound flight will leave at 10:55 a. m. instead of 11:05 a. m. The westbound flight will not change from its 1:29 p. m. time.

Greyhound Lines will remain on Standard Time. The only changes in the schedules will find the eastbound bus now leaving at 10:40 a. m., departing at 11:25 a. m.; the westbound bus now leaving at 2:50 p. m., departing at 3:50 p. m., and the westbound 2:40 a. m. bus, leaving at 3:55 a. m.

Some Differences Allegany County will observe "fast time" as well as nearby Mineral County, W. Va., and Bedford County, Pa. Again this year Garrett County will be a place of confusion.

Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Accident, Friendsville, Grantsville and Crellin will be on "fast time," although the commissioners of Garrett will remain on slow time. The offices of the county treasurer, clerk of Garrett County Circuit Court and the Board of Education will observe fast time.

A county bill passed in the General Assembly this past session allows the Allegany County Commissioners to extend fast time to the last Saturday in October to correspond with the large Eastern metropolitan areas, if they so desire. Usually fast time ends the last Saturday in September.

Equity Suit Filed

Henry Gregory Adam filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday against Marion Wanetta Adam.

University Dean Will Speak At Dedication

Bruce Ceremony Planned May 3

Dr. R. Lee Hornbake, presently associate dean of the faculty of the University of Maryland, will be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies for the new Bruce High School at West-ernport at 8:15 p. m. next Friday in the school auditorium.

"When a Community Builds a School" will be the topic of Dr. Hornbake's remarks, according to Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster.

Dr. Hornbake received his Ph. D. degree from Ohio State University. He then had a one-year doctoral fellowship at Harvard University. His experience includes three years in secondary education and 15 years in higher education.

Four representatives of the State Department of Education are expected to be honored guests at the May 3 ceremonies. They include Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools; Dr. John J. Seidel, assistant state superintendent for vocational education; Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant state superintendent in finance and research, and James L. Reid, state supervisor of school plant planning.

The $2,000,000 school, constructed by the George F. Hazelwood Company, this city, was utilized for the first time Wednesday morning when classes resumed after the Easter vacation.

Conservation Problems Vary Widely

Soil Conservation Service employees are concerned with a variety of problems such as the water disposal question in the new subdivision which the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company is developing as a Western-portal residential area and the erosion and maintenance problem at the Naval Armory on McKaig's Hill.

So reported Martin M. Gordon, SCS work unit conservator, at yesterday's monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District.

Mr. Gordon conferred recently with officials of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company about methods of diverting water away from roads on the hillside. He also spent part of a day on McKaig's Hill with H. D. McMurry, special assistant on soil conservation and erosion control, for the Fifth Naval District public works office at Norfolk, Va.

The conservator's report also disclosed that the SCS office made a 1,650-foot tile line survey for Mt. Calvary Cemetery, Mason Road. An eight-inch of an acre pond on the farm of Harry J. Barton of Pinto also was finished in the month.

A pond survey was made for Thomas Arnico of Oldtown. Proposed pond sites for Donald McCusker and James Starks, both of Little Orleans, and Ivan Wilson and Howard Llewellyn, both of Midland, also were inspected. Also completed during the month was a 1,725-foot diversion ditch for James Stottlemeyer at Little Orleans. Proposed tile lines and open drainage ditches for Joseph Silber and Cyril Luker of Oldtown also were inspected.

Closed Street May Be Paved Wednesday

The city has been advised it can begin blacktopping North Mechanic Street, between the B & O Viaduct and Bow Street next Wednesday.

The street has been closed for a number of weeks while the E. J. Albrecht Company installed storm sewers in the area.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, yesterday advised the city the last concrete for the base of the street was poured Wednesday, and that the area can be blacktopped after the concrete has cured for seven days.

Dedication Of Church Set May 19

The blessing and dedication of the new St. Ambrose Catholic Church in Cresaptown has been scheduled for 10:30 a. m. Sunday, May 19.

Yesterday the Allegany County Board of Commissioners received an invitation to attend the ceremonies, which will be conducted by Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, archbishop of Baltimore.

The commissioners also were invited to stay for a luncheon, which will be served by the Ladies Club of the parish.

Richard L. Aldstadt, representing J. C. Redden of the Restlawn Memorial Grounds on Cash Valley Road, appeared before the commissioners to request permission to extend an open drainage in order to build two dams on the property.

County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman said this would bring a catch basin and pipe up to the grade of the property. Chapman was authorized by the commissioners to do the necessary work so long as the cemetery pays the costs.

EASTER SEAL LUCKY BUCKS NEEDED NOW

The next 73 bucks mailed for Easter Seals will be lucky for crippled children in Allegany county because that's the number of dollars needed to make the 1957 seal campaign total $8,000.

Over 23,000 residents of Allegany county received Easter Seals in the mail a month ago, and a check yesterday showed $7,927 had been received in returns at headquarters.

Much more than $8,000 is needed, however, to finance treatment of crippled children in this section, and it is hoped that at least $10,000 will be received this year.

Don't hold back if you have not yet mailed your money for the seals. It's possible that the buck you haven't returned is the dollar that will be needed to reach this year's goal.

Petition Count Is Continuing

The city proceeded yesterday with the validation of signatures on the bond issue petition and Mayor Roy W. Eves said it looked as if there were not enough names.

He said that even if the city conceded on several large groups the backers of the petition would "still lack enough qualified signatures."

Mayor Eves, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Clerk Wallace G. Uulley met yesterday to discuss procedure.

Mayor Eves said Mr. Finan is arranging a conference with Charles Z. Heskett, who presented the petition, so agreement can be reached on legal aspects of qualifications.

He added the city will make every effort to fairly qualify all signatures coming within the qualification of petition laws.

The larger groups he referred to included those who listed addresses different from registration records, and those who did not vote over a five-year period.

Success of the referendum call became doubtful when it was found Thursday that 1,411 names would be dropped. Included were 1,253 signers who were not registered and 161 duplications.

Local Club Wins National Award

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 26 (AP) — The National Federation of Music Clubs today gave 93 awards to organizations across the country which have encouraged study of string instruments.

Ten of them received awards for "extraordinary" results of their own "crusade for strings," including the Baltimore Music Club and the Music and Arts Club of Cumberland, Md.

Following the speaker, Charles Sager, a member of the faculty at the college, entertained with two vocal selections, composed by John Duke: "In The Fields" and "When I Set Out for Lyonnese."

He then sang "In The Silence of Night" by Rachmaninoff. Mrs. Mary Drum Bollino was his accompanist.

The dinner meeting was then adjourned to reconvene at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium of Comp-tion Hall where "Branch President Night" was held.

County UF Unit Is Organized At Flintstone

Committee To Seek Chapter Members

The first community chapter of the County United Fund was organized last night at Flintstone. It will be known as the Eastern Allegany Chapter and will include Flintstone and the surrounding area.

Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland, principal of Flintstone School, was elected president of the chapter and Mrs. Russel Smith, secretary.

Present as the chapter was organized was Mrs. Edith Shipway, Mrs. Mary Robinette, Rev. John Buffenmyer, Mrs. Delores Shipway, Mrs. Hazel Oster, Mrs. Hilda Lough, Mrs. Robert Twigg and Mrs. Harriet Shafer.

Mrs. Roland said the Eastern Allegany Chapter has approved the principle of the United Fund and is appealing to all Flintstone area organizations and civic leaders to sign up as chapter members at Flintstone School.

Each member of the committee, she said, accepted responsibility for signing up five persons or organizations as chapter members.

Woodward D. Pealer, assistant secretary of the County United Fund, explained the principles of the County United Fund and acted as temporary chairman during the election.

He and Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Salvation Citadel, led a round table discussion of the program.

PPG And ABL Back County United Fund

Two Allegany County industries yesterday announced affiliation with the County United Fund.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Labor - Management committee agreed yesterday to become a chapter of the County United Fund, according to an announcement by Andrew M. Lewis Jr., president of Local 180, Glass and Ceramics Workers, and William P. Lawrence, director of industrial relations for the Cumberland plant.

The PPG's Works 7 was the second industry to announce plans for active participation in the newly established federated fund organization.

The first was Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, where the Charity Fund Committee voted unanimously to affiliate with the County United Fund.

Mr. Lewis and Mr. Lawrence said both hourly paid and staff employees of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant here believe the County United Fund is the answer to the problem of multiple drives.

Mrs. Martin, chairman of the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory Charity Fund Committee, said the ABL fund policy will not change and that all charitable organizations in nearby Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia will continue to be considered in the distribution of money.

"By becoming a unit in the County United Fund we continue our single drive principle," said Mrs. Martin.

Rock Slide Buries WM Tracks And Oldtown Road

A hundred tons of rock and dirt, loosened by recent spring rains, broke loose from an embankment near North Branch late last night and buried Western Maryland Railway tracks and one lane of State Route 51.

State Police alerted State Roads Commission work crews, who were working to clean up the mess early this morning. The Western Maryland detoured its fast "symbol" freights over Baltimore and Ohio Railroad lines from Cherry Run to North Branch. Work crews were sent from Cumberland and Hagerstown to clear the tracks, and the job expected to be completed sometime today.

The slide occurred about 11:30 p. m. at the east end of North Branch.
